GRAVE POSSIBILITIES

Revolves Around Dismissal of U. S. Consular Officers

Washington, March 9.—The state department made it known that Great Britain will not be permitted without proper amends to squirm out of the Newcastle incident, in which two American consular officers, Counsel Fred C. Slater and Vice Consul Russell M. Brooks, were dismissed last August under false charges.

The affair assumes the aspect of a serious diplomatic controversy, involving grave possibilities. It was brought to a head when the British embassy, on instructions from the foreign office, issued direct to the American newspaper representatives in Washington what purported to be their side of the case.

This brought a barrage from the state department. As soon as the British embassy's action was laid before Secretary Hughes, he ordered all the correspondence of this government on the subject given out. He accompanied the notes with a sharp statement setting forth this country's unyielding attitude.

Secretary Hughes declared the position of the state department is that "no illegal or improper conduct towards the laws or government of Great Britain has been committed, and that the only evidence of guilt which the British government has produced in support of its charges consisted of three unsigned statements, which upon examination by the department were not regarded as at all sufficient."

The American communications, all made in reply to British notes, showed for the first time the degree of arrogance with which the British undertook to handle the dismissal of the two consular representatives. But the British embassy statement disclosed an effort to smooth over the matter without undoing the injustice done or removing the unwarranted reflection upon the American foreign service.

The American government, Secretary Hughes' statement emphasizes, took the inevitable view that the British government charged the American representatives with improper conduct in the performance of their consular functions, "and has allowed these charges to become public." Therefore, it was incumbent upon the department to investigate carefully the charges, in order to demand whether or not the officers were guilty, and, if guilty, the extent of the discipline required. The department's investigation "conclusively" showed the charges "had not been substantiated."

YEGGS FOILED BUT EFFECT AN ESCAPE

Toledo, March 9.—Yeggs who shot their way through a posse of Cygnets after an unsuccessful attempt to break into the Cygnets Savings Bank at Xenia near here early today, successfully eluded Toledo police late this morning after a long chase on the Dixie Highway near Bowling Green.

BALFOUR REPLIES TO HARVEY.

London, March 9.—Ambassador Harvey's Pilgrim dinner speech, in which he made "unnecessary explanations" regarding the manner in which the British war debt to the United States was contracted, brought down on his head a scolding from Lord Balfour in the house of lords. "Whatever view is taken of the loans to Britain," said Balfour, "the fact remains that the American lenders got British securities, the allies got the help they needed, and we hold their promises to pay."

CONSTABLE IS SHOT

Frankfort, Ill., March 9.—John Kelley, constable at Zeigler, one of the men indicted in connection with the Herrin mine massacre of last June in which 22 men lost their lives, was shot and killed at Zeigler last night, according to work received here today. Zeigler is a small mining town near here.

NEGRO DEPUTY PROTESTS.

Paris, March 9.—The negro deputy, Candace, has made a protest to Premier Poincare at the recall of 200 West Indian creoles from the Ruhr. He demands a reply whether the order was the result of the "campaign of calumny by Germany against the blacks," and asserts that inasmuch as the French army is one-third colored, no distinction should be made for service on the Rhine.

Cordial War-time Sentiment Between Two Nations Fast
Vanishing, as Soldiers are Openly Unfriendly—
Britain to Stay in Germany.

Essen, March 9.—The cordial war-time sentiment between the British and French is fast vanishing, according to opinion expressed here today by persons, who have just returned from Cologne bridgehead, where the British have been surrounded by French occupational troops in the past few days.

The British bulldog is holding on. John Bull will not relinquish his grip upon the Cologne bridgehead, no matter how hard the French may try to get his goat and make him throw up his job in disgust. John Bull is not going home—at least for some time. That is evident.

International News Service, after an investigation is able to reveal facts which the British newspapers do not care to publish. They fear that publication of the real truth might tear down the last shreds of the artificial

Henry Ford on Brief Visit To Xenia Friday Morning Interviewed by Newspaper

Famous Automobile Manufacturer Declines to Discuss
Politics When Reporter Sees Him at Home of His Brother-in-law, E. R. Bryant.

Smiling benignly, while he fondled Betty and Bobby Bryant, Henry Ford, multi-millionaire automobile manufacturer and one of the biggest figures in America's industrial world, sat at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bryant, 215 West Second Street, Friday noon, and talked as little as possible about things which a trembling interviewer wanted him to talk about.

If Mr. Ford greets all newspapermen alike, the reporter, who draws

On the last leg of a business trip from southern Ohio, including a visit to his plant at Hamilton, Mr. Ford stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant for a short visit before resuming his auto trip to his home in Detroit, Mich. Mr. Bryant is a brother of Mrs. Ford, but this is the first time that the motor magnate has had an opportunity for a social call on his relatives here and he was making the most of his limited time in renewing acquaintances with Bobby and Betty.

Mr. Ford arrived in Xenia in a Lincoln enclosed car shortly before noon. He stopped at the Bryant Auto Sales Company, Market and Greene Streets, where he learned that his brother-in-law was superintending a number of new Fords at the Pennsylvania freight office. Obtaining directions he had his chauffeur drive him there and with Mr. Bryant went direct to the Bryant home on East Second Street. In the meantime the reporter, in a Ford taxicab, drove to the freight house too late and then cornered Mr. Ford at the home of his relatives.

Although apparently not loquacious, Henry Ford is pleasant and kindly. He readily consented to the interview. He has become accustomed to them and accepts his fate resignedly as one of the burdens incumbent upon a man of international prominence. He leaned back in his chair and apparently awaited a barrage of interrogations. Mr. Ford is tall and slender. Although his hair is silver his face and figure belie the age that is usually associated with gray hair. He appears to be in particularly good physically condition. A chronic smile plays around his mouth.

The manufacturer does not take kindly to being questioned concerning politics. Whether he will consent to his name being used as a presidential candidate in 1924 is something somebody else will have to find out. Mr. Ford refused to discuss it Friday.

Controversy Between American Ambassador and Balfour Over the Latters Circular Note On British Debt Draws Interest.

Washington, March 9.—The State Department will continue to take no notice of the controversy between Ambassador Harvey and Earle Balfour over the latter's circular note on the British debt, it was learned officially today.

INSTANTLY KILLED AS AUTO WRECKED

Newport, Ky., March 9.—Fred Beck, 25, was killed instantly last night when the automobile in which he was riding with Milton Bregel, 27 and William Reichert, 28 plunged down a 30 foot embankment after hitting a bridge abutment near Silver Grove, Ky.

Beck was pinned beneath the overturned car, while the two others escaped with minor injuries. Bregel, who was driving, is a son of Police Chief Frank Brogel of Newport. Reichert also resides here, as did Beck.

MEXICO APPROVES BILL

Washington, March 9.—The State Department today received official confirmation of press reports that the Mexican house of deputies have approved articles 1 and 2 of the Petroleum bill which is expected to have a bearing on American oil interests in Mexico.

CHINESE DEMAND TREATY CHANGES

Tokio, March 9.—Abrogation, or at least revision of the famous "twenty demands" is demanded in documents which a Chinese courier, arriving in Tokyo next week, is bringing to the Chinese legation for presentation to the Japanese foreign office, according to belief becoming general in Tokyo today.

Involved in these treaties is the rich Liaotung Peninsula interests, including Port Arthur for which Japan has long promised she would fight.

TWO KILLED IN BLAST

Gibraltar, March 9.—Two men were killed and two others fatally wounded in an explosion on board the British warship Coventry today. The cause has not been determined.

O'RYAN SPECIAL COUNSEL IN VET BUREAU PROBE

Former Soldier Will
Begin Inquiry, at Once.

Washington, March 9.—Major General John F. O'Ryan of New York, former commander of that state's national guard division overseas, has been appointed special counsel for the senate commission to investigate the veteran's bureau.

O'Ryan will begin immediately an inquiry into the charges of irregularities and mismanagement of the bureau that prompted the senate to order an inquiry.

General O'Ryan is to have absolute freedom of action in making the preliminary investigation, it was stated. While the senate committee will not be in session for upwards of 30 days he will be preparing the evidence that is to be submitted when it convenes again.

So far as possible, it was stated, he will gather the papers in the veteran's bureau that are expected to shed light on charges of irregularities and classify them, so that the committee may proceed without undue delay. He is also to make a special survey of the hospital conditions and be prepared to make recommendations for changes should any be desired.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, new director of the bureau, returned from New York and immediately set up machinery within the bureau to supply General O'Ryan with any and all information that he may request. General Hines declared that the bureau would give General O'Ryan access to any and all records.

The selection of General O'Ryan was generally approved by veteran organizations. He fills the requirements of a successful lawyer in civil life and is a former service man with a grasp of the actual needs of the disabled man, it was stated. He is one of the few division commanders to command his unit throughout the world war.

"General O'Ryan has been rightfully described as the highest type of American citizen-soldier," said C. Hamilton Cook, national commander of the disabled American veterans. "He is about to enter upon a new duty which will offer the opportunity for enshrining himself forever in the hearts of tens of thousands of the nation's disabled who have suffered from the harrowing conditions that have been allowed to continue month after month and year after year in the governmental agency that is supposed to relieve the men who were scarred in the nation's service."

SENATE DEFEATS PLAN TO REVIVE CONSPIRACY BILL

Measure Dead Following
Request for Reconsideration is Voted Down.

Columbus, March 9.—The Ohio senate defeated an attempt to revive the Jenkins conspiracy bill, which was voted down in the senate last Tuesday. Senator Collier of Cleveland, who voted against the measure Tuesday, moved to reconsider the bill, but on roll call his motion was defeated, 16 to 19. The bill was backed by James A. White, head of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, and despite desperate efforts to have it passed, it is now definitely dead.

Four senators who voted for the measure Tuesday joined those opposing the bill. They were: Wenner of Ashtabula, Jones of Trumbull, Farnsworth of Toledo and Price of Akron. The bill would make all misdemeanors punishable as conspiracies against the state when two or more persons are involved.

PARIS FEARS BIG FLOOD.

Paris, March 9.—Continuous rains again aroused the fear of Paris authorities that the city is doomed to suffer from floods. Although the Seine is still a full yard short of the veritable danger mark, it has risen 7 inches in 12 days, and the upper level of the Seine is higher than at any time except in 1910, when a large part of Paris was under water. Several streets in outlying suburbs have already been inundated.

THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD BELIEVED KIDNAPED

Son of Municipal Judge in Albany, N. Y., Taken From Home by Newly Hired Nursemaid and Has Not Been Seen Since.

Springfield, O., March 9.—Fears that the defalcation in the accounts of the Springfield National Bank may exceed $1,000,000 were expressed here today, when it was announced that a shortage of more than $250,000 in bonds in safe deposit boxes had been found in a partial check.

Albany, N. Y., March 9.—Three-year-old Leo Minkin, son of City Court Judge Leopold Minkin, is mysteriously missing and local police fear today they have a kidnapping case on their hands.

Six hours after Mary Conkling, 20, had been hired yesterday as a nursemaid in the Minkin home, she and the child disappeared.

When last seen, the girl and child were on a trolley car headed for the downtown section of the city.

DOCTOR CANNOT GET LIQUOR FOR SELF

Columbus, March 9.—Although a physician may prescribe liquor for others, he must go without it himself unless he can find a fellow physician to add him, said Ohio Federal Prohibition Director J. E. Russell, at a meeting of the general practitioners medical society here.

A physician may buy six quarts of whiskey each year to be used in his practice, Russell explained. A careful record must be kept as to how the liquor is used and the record must be turned into the prohibition directors office, Russell said.

Russell branded as false reports that the Federal Prohibition Department had "let up" on the restrictions of the use of whiskey as a medicine.

BANDITS SAVE TIME AND ROB COLLECTOR

Columbus, March 9.—Filling station bandits here believe in saving time. Rather than rob four or five different stations separately well dressed young men held up E. B. Gallahan, a collector for the Moore Oil Company and got away with between $700 and $800, the days receipts from a number of stations and Calahan's automobile.

Police were notified and immediately set chase, but were unable to find any trace of the young bandits.

WOMAN SHOTS HUSBAND EARLY FRIDAY IN CLEVELAND HOTEL

Declares She Committed Act in Self Defense—Victim
Not Expected to Recover—Outcome of Repeated
Quarrels It Is Understood

Cleveland, March 9.—Mrs. Minnie Redwine, 35, is booked on a charge of shooting to kill, while her husband, Gilbert D. Redwine, 45, is lying at the point of death at City hospital following his shooting in the Lundsall Hotel, in the suburbs of Cleveland early today. Mrs. Redwine, police say, calmly admitted that she fired the shots which may cost her husband his life.

"I had to do it," she was quoted as saying. "Gilbert came home drunk and broke into my bedroom. He struck me without saying a word and when I tried to argue, with him he

SENATE DEFERS ACTION ON GASOLINE TAX BILL AS PROTESTS RECEIVED

Opposition of Auto Clubs Given as Reason for Postponement of Consideration of Measure—Woman
Presides Over Body

Columbus, March 9.—The House today passed the McCreery-Sullivan bill by a vote of 72 to 19, providing for at least 100 minutes a week of physical education in the public schools, in addition to the regular instructions and instruction in physiology and hygiene. Regulations of the physical education are to be prescribed by the director of education. This bill was fostered by the American Legion. It now goes to the governor.

The house also passed the following bills:

By Buchanan, increasing the penalty for unlawfully entering residences, business houses and banks and attempting to commit a felony, by Lipp, authorizing city councils to fix the fare on elevated railroads in municipalities; by Bragg, increasing the cost of Lake Erie fishing licenses and fees; and by Garver, providing for obtaining of roads through lands of another and for awarding compensation and damages.

Columbus, O., March 9.—Honor of being the first woman to preside over the Ohio Senate falls upon Mrs. Nettie B. Loughhead, Cincinnati, a state senator. Lieut. Gov. Bloom late yesterday, handed the gavel over to Senator Loughhead who posed for a picture. Returning to her seat after a few minutes, she was congratulated by the other senators.

Action of the House highways committee in deferring further consideration of the gasoline tax bill until next Tuesday is attributed to opposition of auto clubs throughout the state to the measure. Republican legislative leaders are credited with being divided as to the wisdom of enacting such a law. It had been expected that the committee would report the bill out favorably yesterday.

Republican leaders, it is said, favor passage of the bill, reported out by the house insurance committee, requiring companies desiring to sell stock in Ohio to file a prospectus with the state securities commission and providing that ten days must expire before the stock can be marketed. This time could be extended to 21 days by the state securities commissioner. Stock sales would be permissible afterwards unless a stop sale order was issued. The bill, also, requires dealers to register and furnish $10,000 bonds each, to protect purchasers against misrepresentation. Each salesman would have to put up a $2,500 bond.

ISADORA DUNCAN NO LONGER CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES

Washington, March 9.—Isadora Duncan, the temperamental dancer, whose recent outburst against America and American institutions aroused the ire of Secretary of Labor Davis, is no longer an American citizen, although born in this country, said an official statement put out by the labor department today.

When Miss Duncan married Serge Esselin, Russian poet, on April 1, 1922, according to the statement, she acquired Russian citizenship and probably will have difficulty in again becoming an American citizen if she desired to do so.

BROKERAGE FIRM IN CINCINNATI IS ALLEGED INVOLVED

Receiver Will Soon Be Named for Company it is Now Claimed

Cincinnati, March 9.—Financial circles in Cincinnati were shocked last night by swiftly moving developments involving the affairs of Beazell and Chatfield, brokers, a firm whose junior partner, William H. Chatfield, Jr., then a State Senator, last year, was the Republican nominee for the lieutenant governorship of Ohio.

First intimations of abnormal conditions came with the unexplained stopping of the tape ticker in the office of the company. When it became known that the firm was not receiving the customary quotations, inquiry in New York brought information that the ticker service had been halted on orders of the New York Stock Exchange. Neither of the partners could be reached, and rumors current in financial circles covered a broad field of speculation.

It then was reported that the stock exchange mandate had been predicated upon a rule excluding transmission of quotations from the exchange in New York to firms refusing to submit to examinations of their records.

While former Senator Chatfield was speeding homeward from the east, George H. Beazell, the senior partner, was in consultation with attorneys who soon filed suit for appointment of a receiver.

The petition alleged that the firm's eastern representatives, Hornblower and Weeks, New York, had closed out the Beazell-Chatfield account, the transactions involving securities valued at more than $1,000,000.

He also leaves three brothers, Harvey Glass, Jamestown grocer and John and Albert Glass, also of Jamestown and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Morris of Jamestown, Mrs. Emily Sholey of Springfield and Mrs. Jennie Moorman of Seattle, Washington.

Mr. Glass was a life-long member of the Jamestown Church of Christ. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the home in charge of the Rev. J. Earl Pryor, pastor of the Jamestown Church of Christ and burial will be made in the Jamestown Cemetery.

Learn of Death in Michigan
Jamestown relatives of Mr. and Mrs. David Edgar Carpenter are sorry to learn of his death which occurred at his home near Ellsworth, Mich. Mr. Carpenter was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Carpenter who resided near Bowersville, where he was born and reared. After his marriage to Miss Jacqueline Bentley he moved to Michigan. Besides the widow he leaves seven sons and four daughters and two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Sellers, of Washington C. H. Miss Lina of Ellsworth, Mich., and two brothers, John W. of Springfield and Frank D. of Chicago. Mr. Carpenter had joined the M. E. Church at Bowersville at the age of 16 years and remained a faithful member of the church.

Friends Attend Services
Many relatives and friends gathered at the late home of Mrs. Rebecca Mercer Connor on Wednesday afternoon for her funeral services, which were conducted by the Rev. Charles W. Moorman, who read a number of scriptural selections, which was followed by prayer. He based his remarks upon the sixth verse of the first chapter of Exodus, One hymn "How Firm a Foundation" was sung by the Misses Lillian and Cordelia Connor. Floral offerings were placed in the respect of which Mrs. Connor was held. Those serving as pall bearers were Eugene Bucco, Abel Bucco, Leonard Connor, Orange Connor, Lyle Connor and Darris Custer. Interment was made in the Jamestown Cemetery.

The condition of Mrs. T. L. Moore remains unchanged.

James Fidd has purchased the Hoover-Watson farm, north of Jamestown. The farm contains 100 acres.

Returns With Victory
Coach Stoner's basketball team came home from Yellow Springs carrying the long end of the score from the Academy team 21 to 14 in favor of Jamestown. The Jamestown girls did not fare so well as the Academy girls won out by a score of 29 to 13. Both games were hard contested, encouraged in their determination because of the nearness of the county tournament.

CEDARVILLE
Last Rites Are Paid
Cedarville, March 9.—The funeral services for Mrs. Mary Jane Walker, who passed away Sunday at the home of her daughter Mrs. James Barr of Dayton, were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, at the Methodist Church. Rev. B. E. Stevens was in charge of the services and was assisted by President W. R. McChesney. The music was rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Mrs. H. M. Stormont, Mr. Burton McElwain and Mr. Harry Hamman, who sang "Saved by Grace," and "Nearer My God To Thee."

Mrs. Walker was born in Scotland 88 years ago but had for a great many years resided in Cedarville. Her son John Marshall of this place survives also two daughters, Mrs. Barr and Mrs. John McFarland, of Dayton.

CHARGE IS NOLLED—JURY DISAGREES

Frank Richardson, 40, colored, of Springfield, formerly of Yellow Springs, who was tried for wife murder in Dayton, last December, was released from custody Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Robert C. Patterson.

The jury in the trial failed to agree and was dismissed after 17 hours deliberations. On his release from custody the indictment returned against Richardson was nolle.

Dorothy Richardson, his wife, was found in the canal at Miamisburg, May 4, 1921, after being in the water ten days. Death resulted from a bullet wound in the side and Richardson was later arrested on circumstantial evidence. He is said to have acquired a revolver shortly before the murder, to have quarreled with his wife and was seen in an automobile with her in Yellow Springs, April 24, 1921, the day the woman is alleged to have met her death.

Richardson's first wife met death in a similar manner in Buck creek near Springfield, it is said.

FINDS THE RIGHT REMEDY AND REGAINS HER HEALTH

MRS. ELIZABETH WELLERD, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

Suffered From Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism—Wants Her Friends to Know of Her Recovery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wellerd, an aged resident of Columbus, living at 314 S. Fourth street, is a strong believer in Ka-di-ok. In relating her experience, she says: "I was bothered a great deal with rheumatism, stomach trouble, and was in poor health generally. I had severe attacks of indigestion and bloating pains after eating, and ate very little food at that—hardly enough to keep alive. I was unable to sleep at night and usually in the evening my feet and limbs would ache all over with rheumatism and I would feel all crippled up. I tried Ka-di-ok and it helped me right away. My appetite is very good now and I get my sleep. I am getting around pretty well and have hardly been bothered at all with rheumatism. I have taken, all told, four bottles of Ka-di-ok and it has helped me wonderfully. I want my friends and neighbors to know what a fine remedy Ka-di-ok is. Ka-di-ok will be found to be a very efficient remedy for persons suffering from the after effects of the "flu." It can be obtained in Xenia at Sayre and Hemphill's Drug Store.

The condition of little Jack Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Preston, of Chilton, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia and whooping cough was improved Friday.

PHI DELT DINNER DANCE GIVEN THURSDAY

Members of the Ohio Beta Beta Chapter, of the Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity launched another form of pleasurable entertainment at the fraternity rooms in the Kingsbury building, Thursday evening, when they were hosts to the members of the cast of "The Phi Delt Follies of 1923," at dinner, the affair culminating the social features of the show.

In appreciation of the services of the show cast, a delicious two-course dinner was served, at attractively arranged tables in the club rooms, covers being laid for over fifty people. Lighted red tapers, with favors of red carnations, added in carrying out the fraternity colors of red and white, in the dinner appointments.

Mr. Arthur Reynolds presided as toastmaster following the dinner, expressing the appreciation of the fraternity brothers for the support given the show, calling on Mr. Robert Hurley, director of the "Follies," Mr. Raymond Stiles, president of the Phi Delt, and guests for short talks. Miss Cleo Hurley expressed the sentiment of the cast for the "good times," afforded during the local production. Several acts from the "Follies" were reproduced for the amusement of the guests at the close. Several Phi Delta Kappa members from Dayton, were among the dinner guests.

At nine o'clock the entire company adjourned to the Elk's Club, where a "Phi Delt Hop" for the cast was staged, and to which friends of the guests were invited. Shepherds Entertainers furnished the music for the affair. Novelty features interspersed the straight dance program. Visiting Phi Delt from Dayton and Washington, and other guests attended the function.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S. since 1823, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a calamity-looker. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peppy, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again

DEHAVEN ELECTED MAYOR OF XENIA THURSDAY EVENING

Dr. A. D. DeHaven was elected mayor of Xenia Thursday night by the City Commission in regular session at City Hall. Dr. DeHaven succeeds the late M. J. Hartley, in this official capacity. The position is largely honorary, carrying no administrative duties.

Dr. DeHaven is one of the original members of the City Commission. He was elected first, January 1, 1918, and has served on that body ever since. His election to the office came on the first ballot at the meeting Thursday night and he assumed his position immediately.

S. M. McKay, newly elected member of the commission took his seat Thursday night for the first time. Mr. McKay was elected to a place on the commission two weeks ago to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mayor Hartley.

The seating of Mr. McKay followed a decision handed down in Common Pleas Court here, regarding a provision in the city charter, which led to a friendly suit, contesting the election of Mr. McKay, being filed. The court ruled that the election was legal.

At the request of property holders on Shawnee Street that that avenue be improved by narrowing between King and Galloway streets, the commission passed an ordinance providing for the requested changes. Property owners on the south side of the street plan to reclaim the section through which the small stream runs by covering it over and beautifying the section. That section is turned over to property holders by the ordinance. The annual street sprinkling ordinance was discussed at the meeting but no action on it taken.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney was instructed to take up the question of railroad crossings and tracks in the city with the Pennsylvania Railroad in the attempt to improve track conditions.

The condition of Mrs. Newton Scope of South Columbus Street, who has been quite ill is now improving.

TRAIN STOPS HERE

West-bound Pennsylvania train leaving Columbus at 9:10 p. m. and due in Xenia at 10:25 will stop here from now on it was announced Friday morning. The train which formerly made this city a regular stop, remained over for a few minutes Thursday evening for the first time since the new schedule went into effect. It will leave here for Dayton and St. Louis at 10:30 p. m.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for kindness during the illness and death of our husband and father and for the floral offerings. We especially thank the American Legion for their services as pall bearers, and the impressive service at the grave.

Mrs. P. G. Davis and children.

TO HOLD SERVICES.

Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Rockfield, Belleman, of Dayton, will be conducted Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the late residence in Dayton, with interment at David's Cemetery, Dayton.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Dowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

CROWDER TAKES UP DUTIES AS ENVOY TO CUBA.

Escorted with military pomp from the legation building to the presidential palace Monday, Major General Crowder presented his credentials to President Zayas as Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the American Government to the Government of Cuba. He is the first ambassador to be accredited to Cuba.

In his address General Crowder said:

"The bonds of affection and respect which unite our countries are strengthened by the fact that both have been, not only neighbors in peace, but also brothers in arms in two great conflicts each having for its righteous aim similar and related ends. The bonds of mutual interest and friendship born of such associations are well nigh indissoluble.

"Under such conditions we may look forward to complete success in the realization of the very strong desire of my Government that all those great transformations which have been undertaken under your excellency's Administration for the welfare of the Republic of Cuba will be continued and completed in a definite way.

"It is perhaps of rare occurrence that an accredited diplomatic representative to a foreign country in presenting his credentials speaks to the chief executive and through him to a people with whom he has had uninterrupted personal acquaintance and friendship covering a period of nearly seventeen years. I cannot permit myself to doubt that the mutual understanding developed during so long a period will be a source of greatest aid to me in discharging my duties near your excellency's Government."

PASSING FIGURES.

For better or for worse, something of the ancient and familiar quality that the American Congress has had since Reconstruction days departed with the fall of the gavel on Sunday. Not in our time have so many figures of national and sectional importance passed from the Capitol.

Of the 127 members of the Lower House who have gone into lasting or temporary eclipse, the best known and today the best loved is Joseph Gurney Cannon, the famed and sometimes profane old war horse from the Eighteenth Illinois District, who first came to Congress fifty long years ago. His name is written indelibly in our political history and he enriched the vocabulary of politics with the word "Cannonism." He was a Czar in his time and the best-hated man in Congress. He departs full of years and of honors and well beloved. In his way and his day he was efficient. He knew the value of leadership and party discipline. He got things done. The Nation owes much to the old and broken man who has given it so many years of his life.

As Cannon the Republican goes from the House, Williams the Democrat passes from the Senate. Both go of their own will and volition. John Sharp Williams quits disgusted with the Senate. This lawyer, cotton planter, son of the Old South and gentleman of Mississippi, was one of the Senate's intellectuals. For sixteen years in the House and eight in the Senate he was an outstanding figure in the South and a power in his party. He goes back to his fields and his books, deeming the Senate an unclean place. He will be missed, for while he has served his State well, he has served the Nation better.

A POOR WITNESS.

The New York World and other "wet" papers are making a prodigious outcry over the fact that the Anti-Saloon League fund for New York totals $250,000 a year. Precisely how much money do the wets think it proper should be spent for their undoing? And are they exactly the source to which people should look for unbiased opinions on the subject? Take the World alone as a factor. The whole amount available for the Anti-Saloon League could not secure as much publicity for the law and its merits as that newspaper is giving to the effort to overthrow it.

WHITE MAN VS. BROWN.

The white man is in a fair way to lose control of the Hawaiian Islands. Forty-three of every hundred residents there are Japanese. The native Hawaiian is dying out and disappearing before these Orientals, who are replacing him. These Asiatics now have a labor monopoly there. Two years ago they used it in a plantation strike that was costly and paralyzing. Since then American planters in the islands have begged Washington for relief from a situation that is growing intolerable.

This has been regarded as a labor question; but if the Senate Immigration Committee is right, it is more than that. When the committee points out that the islands are about to pass under the political and industrial control of Asiatics, what may have been a labor problem two years ago takes on another and more sinister color.

A few thousands more Japanese and a few thousand fewer of other races and the brown men will outnumber the total of all other races in Hawaii. These Japanese stick together, as California and Arizona know. With this racial and aggressive solidarity of theirs, there is more than a probability that Hawaiian industry will pass into their hands unless something is done.

The white plantation owners are at the mercy of Japanese workers.

ANOTHER "NEW DEPARTURE" FOR WOMEN.

In attaining her appointment as America's first woman diplomatist, officially accredited, Miss Lucile Atcherson, of Columbus, Ohio, has well upheld the traditions of her state. Ohio, that is to say, was one of the early states in the Union to urge woman suffrage, it was the first to admit women to its colleges, the first to elect a woman to sit on its Supreme Court bench, and the first to send to Washington a woman federal prohibition agent. Miss Atcherson appreciates the fact that she has a certain amount of prejudice to overcome in her new work, but is devoting herself to the task before her wholeheartedly, not only for her own sake, but for the sake of other women who, she hopes, will find themselves fitted to come into the Diplomatic Corps. From such a standpoint she is justified in expecting that a large measure of success will attend her efforts.

ARE WE GETTING TO BE A NATION OF COMMON SCOLDS?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The Greene County Bee and Horticultural Society held a meeting in Xenia, March 5th. The bee men reported bees in good condition. The few warmer days have brought the little workers out in full force and ready for business. The general impression is that peaches are killed yet some are favorable. Cherries and plums are considerable damaged. Apples are not damaged. A number of Xenia Society young folks have received invitation to a reception dance to be given at the Armory hall, Wilmington, March 19.

Wheels are going about in a business-like manner and quite a force is employed at the Baldwin automobile factory at the new location corner of Church and Whitman streets. It is the plan of Mr. Baldwin to get a foundry in operation and thus be enabled to turn out his own castings and make the automobile in its entirety at this factory. He hopes soon to be turning out one automobile each week.

The main topic in Xenia everywhere at this time is the political situation. There are now five candidates for mayor in the field. The indications at this time are that the Republicans will arrange to put forth a ticket.

A CHAT ABOUT TEETH

Bad dentists are too anxious to pull out teeth, good dentists too anxious to save them.

If a man has not the skill to cure and preserve a diseased tooth he naturally wants it out and all its troubles with it, for the gum will heal easily and false teeth are not difficult to put in.

Good dentists, on the other hand, are sometimes too anxious to use their skill and knowledge in saving a practically worthless tooth.

The only solution really seems to be to go to the dentist so frequently that the teeth never have a chance to become unhealthy.

This means, of course, a visit once every six months to a man whose skill you can trust.

The teeth should then be thoroughly cleaned of tartar which may get up under the gums and cause pyorrhea, and any small filling attended to.

If you go every six months that's all that will ever happen to the teeth.

It is true, of course, that all sorts of unexpected diseases have their origin in bad teeth and gums and that, although the mouth may seem healthy enough with no visible cavities, the germs of dozens of troubles may lurk deep down where the teeth have their roots.

The English dentist, I believe, ascribes most human ailments to this hard to get at cause. The American dentist, as yet does not entirely agree with him.

Which of the two are right I cannot say. American dentists have the greatest reputations in the world. It is said that there is one attached to practically every foreign Court, and the American dentists of foreign towns usually have the top-most reputations and prices.

The most important thing in the care of the teeth is having them properly cleaned and, Jew dentists do this. They will clean them so that they look well with brushes and pumice and even implements to scrape off the tartar, but few go under the edge of the gum where the tartar causes pyorrhea.

Keep the skin from growing over the base of the nail. In other words, go over your nails every day giving them the few minutes care that will keep them in condition, then rub plenty of cream into the roots of the nails, and be generous with the buffing as that keeps the blood circulating under them.

All these little attentions will combine to keep the nails from getting dry and ugly even though you are compelled to do all of your housework.

Today's Talk

IS THERE A REAL LIFE

When we get tired and very discouraged, and are quite lonely—and we look upon the fallen wall of much that we have tried to build—life does not seem very real. We wonder why we are here, and what it is all about anyway.

Stars, and beautiful sky colorings, lovely forests and streams, laughing waterfall, trusting pansies, and flowers bursting with perfume, mean so little then.

But when our moments of greatest strength come, these very same things magnify our appreciation of all that is beautiful, and each in its turn has a new argument for all that is enduring—the greatest of which is life itself.

This life is very real when we put readiness into it.

If we keep taking from our wonderful storehouse that which has been given us for times of emergency, and waste it along the way, we must not complain when at the height of the race of life we find ourselves passed by someone who has conserved.

And we mustn't say then that life plays favorites.

We play favorites with ourselves—or we don't!

One thing is certain, God didn't build this great world and then run off and forget all about it.

A little while ago I looked out of my window and saw an earth that was wrapping about its throat a gorgeous coat of the whitest snow

The sun was creeping through the trees beyond where I looked. Soon the ground sparkled like one great mass of tiny diamonds.

Tonight I stood upon the porch of the house where I am living for a little while and looked into a tropic night sky—a canopy of pure opal. A new moon, cut like a cameo. A few stars peeping out to see if anyone wanted to talk to them. And palms throwing whispered love across the vast space, from here below to there above.

When I do most to make others happy, this seems a very real and happy life.

JUDGE J. A. McMAHON PROMINENT DAYTON LAWYER IS DEAD

Judge John A. McMahon, 90, dean of the Montgomery County Bar, former congressman, lawyer and prominent in business and industry in Dayton many years, died at 9:15 o'clock Thursday night at his residence, 127 North Perry Street, Dayton.

Judge McMahon suffered injuries in a fall in August, 1922, from which he never recovered. He was born in Frederick County, Maryland, February 19, 1833, his father, John V. McMahon, of Baltimore, being one of the distinguished members of the Maryland bar. After attending various schools Judge McMahon was sent to St. Xavier at Cincinnati, where he completed the full collegiate course, graduating with the class of 1849 with honor. He afterward remained at the school as instructor until June, 1850.

Judge McMahon went to Dayton in 1851 and entered upon the study of law with C. P. Valandingham as his preceptor. He was admitted to the bar in 1854 and entered into partnership relations with his preceptor, who was his uncle. He soon won himself a prominent place at the Dayton bar. After his partner entered the political field he practiced alone for a time and then entered a partnership with George W. Houk that was maintained until January, 1880.

Although he took little part in politics, he was named as a delegate at large to the Democratic national convention in Baltimore in 1872 and in 1874 accepted the nomination for Congress. He was elected and served prominently during his first term, so that he was re-elected a member of the forty-fifth Congress. At the conclusion of his second term he was elected to a third term and after that retired from public life in 1881 resuming the practice of law in Dayton. Afterward however he was a candidate for U. S. Senator and was a runner-up in the race and later was Democratic delegate to the national convention in St. Louis in 1904.

Probably the most notable of his legal achievements was the writing of the conservancy law, which he started a few months after the disastrous Dayton flood of 1913 and on which he worked constantly more than four months. He was also active in the passage of the law and for more than four years afterward was active in defending the law against its enemies. He retired from practice December 1, 1920 and was then retained by the firm of McMahon, Corwin and Landis as consulting counsel.

Judge McMahon was not affiliated with any fraternal organizations but was a member of the Buz Fux Club, and a non-resident member of the Queen City Club of Cincinnati and was for several years a member of the Dayton City Club. He was a member of Christ Episcopal Church of Dayton. His wife was formerly Miss Mary R. Sprigg of Cumberland, Md., whom he married January 23, 1861. Surviving is one son, J. Sprigg McMahon, Dayton attorney and one daughter, Louise McMahon, who lives at home.

STAGE SET FOR ANNUAL ANTIOCH TOURNEY
MERCHANTS IN FINAL GO; M'KINLEY ENTERS TOURNEY
CITY SERIES READY—EAST HAS 3 GAMES

ANTIOCH TOURNAMENT READY

Boys and girls high school basketball teams from all over Greene County are ready for the whistle Saturday morning that will send them together in the annual Antioch College Greene County High School basketball tournament, to decide the boys and girls champions of the county.

For the first time in the history of the annual tournament at the Yellow Springs school, the Central High quintet will not be represented among the teams contending for county honors. Xenia Central won the first honors at the meetings on two different occasions and was a runner up in practically every tournament held.

The stage is set for the 1923 gathering according to William Wardman, chairman of the tournament committees. The Letter A Association of Antioch, composed of students who have won their letter in athletics, are in charge of the event this year. William Kitchen will be manager of the floor during the games and Marion Richardson and Ernest Henderson are in charge of the tickets. Charles Sedden, Ohio State University will referee all boys' games and Miss Elizabeth Kyle of Columbia University will handle the whistle in the girls' games.

Preliminaries in the girls' division were played off last week with the following results: Osborn 12, Bath High 5; Bowersville 21, Spring Valley 3; Yellow Springs 24, Beaver 4; Ross 16, Cedarville 7; Jamestown 8, Osborn 2. This leaves Jamestown, Yellow Springs, Ross and Bowersville in the tournament and of these Jamestown, Yellow Springs and Ross are considered the strongest contenders.

Drawings will take place Saturday morning when the teams arrive and play in the first round of the boys' games will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The semi-finals both boys and girls will start at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the girls' finals will be played at seven o'clock at night with the final boys game being staged at eight o'clock. Boys teams entered are: Cedarville, Jamestown, Yellow Springs, Spring Valley, Sugar Creek, Beaver Creek, Bowersville, Caesar Creek and Ross. Cedarville and Jamestown are considered the strongest contenders.

M'KINLEY IN TOURNEY

Coach Austin Black's McKinley Junior High first string quintet is entered in the eighth-grade basketball tournament being held in connection with the high school tournament at Wilmington College, Wilmington Saturday.

The games in the eighth grade division will be played Saturday afternoon and Coach Black will leave here with his team at 12 o'clock by automobile. A cup is offered for the tournament winner in this section and the McKinley athletes have high hopes of bringing that trophy back with them. McKinley will lineup with Huston, H. H. Smith, F. Parks, C. Henrie, L. Routzong, R. F. Smith, Hagler and Luttrell will be the reserves.

CITY SERIES STARTS WEDNESDAY

The basketball championship of Xenia City will be decided in the series of games to start next Wednesday, March 14, at the rink between the Xenia Autos and the Xenia American Legion, the crack colored quintet.

These teams are acknowledged at the top of the heap in local basketball circles. The Autos, composed of athletes from the fastest court company in Dayton, recently completed a most successful season. The Legion also has brought to close a regular season replete with many floor triumphs.

The Autos, under the name of the Elders, are now leading the Municipal League in Dayton, which is no mean feat considering the calibre of teams listed in that league's standing. The Autos came from behind in the second half of their last game with the Dayton Scales and assumed the lead, leading in one of the toughest court struggles ever witnessed in Dayton.

The first game of the city series here will be played next Wednesday with both teams presenting regular lineups, and the second contest will be staged on the Wednesday following. Managements of both teams are anticipating large crowds, and have arranged for reserved seats for fans who buy in advance. An admission of 55 cents will be charged.

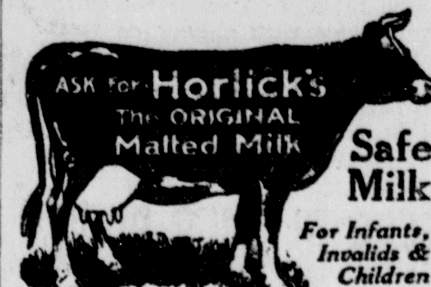

EAST HIGH WILL BE BUSY

Three games will be staged at the East High gym Friday night. The first game will bring together two girl teams the East High first team and the East High second string girls. In the second game of the evening the East High boys second team will tangle with the Central High second team in a game that promises to be a thriller.

In the main event of the evening the East High first quintet will meet the strong Cincinnati Hi Y team.

INTERNATIONAL MOTOR TRUCKS

Make Long Hauls Short

IT IS IMPORTANT that a farmer should be equipped to save time on the road so that he can devote more of his time to productive work. With an International, hauling jobs can be done in one-half to one-third the time required by teams, especially where the market is located considerable distance from the farm.

By owning an International Motor Truck a farmer enlarges his market radius, making it possible for him to haul his live stock, grain and produce to a point where he can secure better prices. Long hauls will seem short, more trips can be made at greater speed with capacity loads. The result: a great deal of work can be done in a shorter period of time. To the farmer this means money.

At regular intervals four times a year International Motor Trucks are inspected by a corps of factory-trained road engineers. This service is free and available during the life of the truck.

The International line includes 14 sizes, from the 2,000-lb. Model S Speed Truck to the heavy-duty unit. Suitable bodies can be supplied for every farm hauling purpose.

Come in, we'll be glad to show you what we mean by low-cost hauling with Internationals

LOCAL CHURCHES ARE REPRESENTED AT M. E. CONFERENCE

The First M. E. Church and Trinity M. E. Church of this city, were represented at the district conference of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society Group, of the Springfield District at the Methodist Episcopal Church at Jamestown, Thursday.

Other churches included in the group represented at the session, were Union Circuit, Cedarville, Selma, New Jasper and Jamestown. Over one hundred women attended the all day meeting.

In the absence of Mrs. Rosser of Arcanum, the president, Mrs. W. P. Brown, of Xenia, first vice-president, presided at the two sessions. The program opened with the devotional exercises led by the Rev. O. M. Bangham of the Jamestown M. E. Church. The corresponding secretary of the district Mrs. Herte Gibson, gave the roll call the various auxiliary workers responding.

The reports of the various secretaries followed. Mrs. Jenkinson of Catwaba, who has charge of the children's work of the district, gave an interesting address along her line of work. The talk preceded noon hour, during which a box lunch, with coffee served by the Jamestown women, was enjoyed.

Devotional exercises in charge of Mrs. C. L. Spencer of the First M. E. Church, Xenia, opened the afternoon session. A vocal solo by Mrs. Thorp of Jamestown was enjoyed. The main address of the day was given by Mrs. Eddy, a returned missionary from India, who told her experiences during her life among the Indians in an interesting fashion.

A offering was taken among the delegates, for funds to furnish the child of the Rev. and Mrs. Bangham of the Jamestown Church, a life membership into "The Light Bearers" a juvenile department of the work. The ten dollar fee was secured.

Delegates from Trinity M. E. Church were Mrs. V. F. Brown, Mrs. John A. Beatty and Mrs. John Ary, and from the First M. E. Church, Mrs. C. L. Spencer, Mrs. C. L. Babb, and Miss Jennie Thomas.

SHOE DEALERS ELECT OFFICERS

Columbus, Mar. 8.—C. B. Klinger-smith, Youngstown, was elected president of the Ohio Valley Retail Shoe Dealers' Association at their annual convention here.

Other new officers are: P. W. Crawford, Lima; C. E. Petot, Cleveland, and Charles Seldenfield, Murray City, vice presidents; Harry F. Hagerman, of Columbus, secretary, and Lewis M. Wright, Springfield, treasurer.

THOUGHT 3 LITTLE CHILDREN NEEDED MOTHER'S CARE

"My stomach suffering was so severe that I could not have lasted much longer. I did not care so much for myself but did not want to leave my three little children who needed a mother's love and care. A cousin in California wrote me about Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I took a course of it. I have since been entirely well." PRESBYTERIANS WILL BE CALLED UPON

Every member of the First Presbyterian Church in Xenia will be visited Sunday afternoon by committees of men, between the hours of two and five o'clock, who are seeking to receive pledges for the current expenses of the church for the year 1923-24.

The committees expect to report before the evening closes, that the entire amount of the budget sought has been pledged.

According to the announcement of the Rev. W. H. Telford, pastor, the committee members will also take pledges for the benevolent work of the denomination of which they are a part. The Deacons of the church have requested all the people to be at home between the hours named to greet the canvassers.

The action is an annual event of the Presbyterian Church, throughout the United States, on the Second Sunday in March. Some 300,000 canvassers will see the nearly two million members of the denomination in the attempt to raise $15,000,000 for benevolent and missionary enterprises with some $40,000,000 for church expenses.

EAST END NEWS

The Festival of Music to be given at Zion Sunday 3 to 4 p. m. by artists from the Baldwin Piano Co., Cincinnati will be an out of the ordinary treat. Mrs. Anita Kimbro, Mrs. Maggie Oglesbee will also appear accompanied by Mrs. Lottie Lane. Sunday morning at 10:45 Mr. Becker will introduce the service with chimes on piano.

"Grease or Sand," is the subject of a lecture by the Rev. Dr. John Irvin, Springfield, Monday evening the 12th at St. John A. M. E. Church. A musical program precedes the lecture.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine.

The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. adv

general building bill, was the answer of Congressman S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs, in answer to the query of the Wilmington Democrat, as to why congress adjourned without passing legislation providing relief for cities badly in need of new postoffice buildings. The statement of Congressman Fess was given in a letter to the editor of the Wilmington paper, Thursday.

It was a case of passing a measure continuing a lot of pork, or no measure at all, and as the result many cities, as Akron, Wilmington, Urbana and Lima, are now in dire need of new federal structures, Fess' letter said.

The postoffice appropriations were let go to stave off a wholesale and unjustified raid on the treasury, according to Fess.

GAMES CANCELLED

Because of the fact that workmen
are laying cement floors in the corridors of the new Central High School building, the proposed basketball games scheduled to be played at the gym Friday night have been cancelled.

The cement is in such a condition that it will not permit use yet, and it was necessary to call off all of the four games scheduled, which will be played at a later date. The date for the games has not been announced.

HENRY FORD MAKES BRIEF VISIT HERE ON FRIDAY MORNING

"Will you talk briefly for me or shall I ask you questions?" said the interviewer.

"Well, I suppose you reporters have a canned set of questions to fire at me," said Mr. Ford, smiling.

"Well what do you think of—" the reporter began.

"Of Xenia?" said Mr. Ford, still smiling.

"I didn't intend to ask you that but since you have mentioned it what do you think of Xenia?" said the interviewer.

"Well, I can't say anything about Xenia. I haven't been here long enough and this is my first visit you know. I've only been here about ten minutes."

"Couldn't you get an impression in ten minutes," the reporter pressed.

"No," said Mr. Ford. And that was all.

Asked concerning politics and the possibility of his presidential candidacy, he was just as reticent or more so. "Reporters insist upon asking me something I don't know anything about," he said, "I don't pretend to know anything about politics."

Business, in the opinion of Mr. Ford, is good and going to be better. Conditions, as he has found them, he says, indicate that 1923 will not only be a good business year but a better business year. He asked the interviewer if this were not true. The interviewer thought he was being kidded but replied in the affirmative. What else could he do?

Mr. Ford's business trip by motor was partly in the interest of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad, which he owns. The road will be extended, he said, into the coal fields of Kentucky in order to provide a railway for coal shipments to Detroit and other points.

Mr. Ford was a little hazy on the subject of the "Grasshopper" division of his road, which passed through one corner of Greene County, until he was reminded that this was the short system included in his purchase of the D. T. and I. interests.

He admitted that he was not given up the idea of extending that road to provide connections at Hamilton or possibly some place else, although he has no definite plans for such a move now. It was suggested some time that the road would be extended from Kingman, the southerly terminal, to Hamilton, where it would provide an outlet through farming country for the tractor product of the Ford Plant in Hamilton.

While this plan has evidently not been dropped, there is no move of this nature contemplated now, said Mr. Ford, although it might be carried out in the future for the present there will be nothing done with the so-called "Grasshopper" division.

Mr. Ford had luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant and left shortly afterward for his return trip by motor direct to Detroit. He said he expected to be home by seven o'clock Friday evening. Mrs. Ford was not with him and he was unaccompanied except for the chauffeur.

Cedarville College Notes

The junior class is removing all obstacles which might prove a hindrance towards giving their class play on March 12, by having regular class meetings in the regular place directly after chapel exercises each morning.

The College Rangers Club made its first appearance of the season, Friday afternoon at Jamestown. The program will also be given at Caesar Creek High School in the evening.

All the students of the College are looking forward to the interclass basketball tournament which will take place the first part of next week. Each class is determined to carry off the laurels.

Dr. Taylor, a returned missionary from India, addressed the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. in a joint meeting in chapel Wednesday morning. The students were especially interested in the Hindu ceremony and the costume of the Hindu fakir, which Dr. Taylor wore during his talk.

Many of the college students have been absent from classes because of sickness. Miss Clara Edler, who has recently had an attack of grip has returned to her studies this week. Miss Lois Ater has resumed her school work, after having been absent for three weeks on account of illness in the family.

The young men of the College, are practicing to present another one of their famous minstrel shows which is to be given March 28.

CLASSIFIES PEOPLE UNDER TWO GENERAL HEADS IN SERMON

All men and people were classified under two general heads, by the Rev. J. S. Flacks, Jewish Evangelist at the First Reformed Church, Thursday night, namely, Adam folks, who are after creation and lost spiritually, and Christ folks who are after the new creation in the Son of Man.

"There are two main classes," said the Rev. Mr. Flacks, "the Christians and the un-saved. Without Christ you are lost. With Christ you have eternal life."

The evangelist told of his experience in a town near Capernaum, where he preached a year ago. It was told about that he was there, and Greeks, Mohammedans, Catholics and all creeds came to hear him. "We have to tear up things and tear away things to get to Christ," he declared.

There is a deeper longing than hunger, as he saw it, in China, according to the Rev. Mr. Flacks. "The longing and hunger of the soul. This longing cannot be satisfied by a Christian, who is not clean."

A young Bohemian girl in his tailoring establishment was the first one to start the Rev. Mr. Flacks on his way to Christ, he told his audience. The subject of his address was "Co-operation of Christians for Sinners."

A large delegation from the Hooven and Allison Company attended the service, Friday evening, the Xenia Shoe factory employees will attend the service in a body. There will be no services held Saturday. The Rev. Mr. Flacks will go to Covington, Ohio, that day. Morning services will be held at the Three Churches, Sunday, as usual.

The Rev. Mr. Flacks will tell the first chapter of his conversion experience at the Sunday afternoon service at 3 o'clock. The Sunday evening service will be held at 7 o'clock. The Rev. R. B. Stewart will be in the city the remainder of next week, to assist in the services.

MONEY IS STOLEN—GETS HOME BROKE

John Corzatt, 64, of 715 Carlisle Avenue, Dayton, a retired Greene County farmer, returned from a trip to Cuba Thursday night minus a roll amounting to $1,500 and with many other strange experiences.

When Corzatt boarded the north-bound boat to leave Cuba after a winter spent in that tropical country, he found that someone had stolen his wallet containing $1,500. His ticket, however, was intact. A vivacious widow of 38 is said to have defrayed his expenses home, but on arriving in Cincinnati he found he was again broke.

A social agency in Cincinnati communicated with Corzatt's son-in-law, Charles Stevenson, of Dayton, who drove to Cincinnati and brought him home.

ALASKA MISSIONARY.

The Rev. W. A. Thomas, of Point Hope, Alaska, former rector of Christ Episcopal Church, this city, will have charge of the Easter Service of the local church, it is announced. The Rev. Thomas is now on furlough from his work in Alaska, and will return to that country in May.

HEALING CREAM STOPS CATARRH

Clogged Air Passages Open at Once—Nose and Throat Clear

If your nostrils are clogged and your head stuffed because of catarrh or a cold, get Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this pure, antiseptic, germ destroying cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head and membranes. Instant relief.

How good it feels. Your head is clear. Your nostrils are open. You breathe freely. No more hawking or snuffling. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up, choked up and miserable. Relief is sure.

boiled custard and pour it over diced oranges in a dessert dish (skin, seeds and the stringy white membranes removed). Let cool and serve. Orange Compote.—Separate six oranges into sections without breaking the white membrane. Make a sirup of one-half cup of water, juice from one lemon, two cups of apricot juice (either from canned apricots, or drained from dried apricots which you have simmered for a while in hot water to cover) and two cups of granulated sugar. Boil this sirup five minutes, or until it "threads," then add the orange sections to it. Remove the saucepan from the fire, cover, and cool. Chill at least an hour before serving.

Orange Pudding.—Peel and slice four large oranges. Cover with one-half cup of sugar and let stand 30 minutes in a baking dish, in a cool place. Beat together the yolks of three eggs, one heaping tablespoon of cornstarch, one and one-half cups of sugar and one pint of sweet milk. Cook this mixture till thick like custard, then cool it. When cool, pour it over the sliced oranges. New beat the three egg-whites till stiff, sweetening them with one-half cup of confectioner's sugar, and turn this froth over the contents of the baking dish. Place the dish in a very low oven to brown the meringue. Serve cold.

Orange Cottage Pudding.—Make a plain white cake, using one egg. When baked in loaf form, slice it and place these slices on individual dessert plates. Just before serving, turn over each slice some of the following: Hot Orange Sauce.—Sift together one cup of granulated sugar, one tablespoon of cornstarch and a pinch of salt; add this slowly to one cup of boiling water, then cook for five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from range and add two tablespoons of butter and the rind and juice of two large oranges. Strain and serve at once.

Orange Sponge Jelly.—Begin by making a simple orange gelatine (according to the directions which come with any box of granulated gelatine). Place the jelly in a cool place and watch it closely. In about 30 minutes (depending upon the atmosphere of the place) it will begin to congeal, and cling to the side of the mold, when tipped a little; it is ready at this half-solid stage for the addition of one stiffly-whipped egg white and one cup of diced orange pulp. Stir in the egg white and the pulp, then leave the gelatine to complete its hardening.

DICK BREAKS HIS LEG

CHAPTER 28.

As Ann kept no house-servant she was naturally more or less confined because of little Jack. Grace frequently took advantage of this, and would walk over, then insist upon Dick taking her home in the flivver. Ann hated these moonlight rides, taken while she sat at home with the sleeping baby, but made no demonstration.

It was only polite for Dick to take a guest home, and had that guest been anyone but Grace Edmunds, or had Grace been different, she would have thought it quite the proper thing to do.

She worried a little too for fear of an accident.

Grace often insisted upon driving and she was reckless, fast driver. She boasted she never had had an accident, although she laughingly told of being arrested in San Francisco, not once but several times.

To Ann it seemed a kind of disgrace, but Grace made a joke of it, describing her visits to court, her fines, and soon saying her father had no sense of humor because he found fault at having to pay her fines.

There was no speed laws in the open country where travel after dusk was almost nil, and she often spoke of how she made the old flivver go.

Ann had spoken of her fear of an accident to Dick, and he had laughed, telling her there was no danger.

Then one night they started off in a hilarious mood. It was a glorious white night and Ann said:

"You won't be gone long, Dick. I'll sit on the porch and wait for you." The two miles each way was quickly covered as a rule, as Grace remained so late Dick usually came directly back, not stopping to chat with Ned.

It was nearly time for his return, and Ann kept her eyes on the road the flivver had to travel on its return.

But the time dragged along and he did not come.

She walked to the edge of the road, just as it came into view, slowly not as Dick usually came.

As it drew near she saw Grace at the wheel.

A premonition made her call out:

"What is it, Grace? Anything the matter?"

"Matter enough," Grace answered as she turned into the driveway. "We had a spill!"

"Dick! Is Dick hurt?" Ann rushed to the car.

Dick was half lying, half sitting, his face white as death, although he tried to smile reassuringly at Ann as he said:

"Leg's broke I guess, Ann. Do you think you two girls can get me into the house?"

"We will!" Ann answered, and although he groaned with the pain, they finally succeeded in getting him on to the couch.

"Telephone the doctor!" Ann ordered Grace, asking no questions, but making Dick as comfortable as possible.

"The whiskey, Ann—" his white lips muttered, and she ran to the closet and poured him a drink, not even wondering if she were doing right, frightened by his paleness, his suffering.

The doctor was at home, would soon be there. He lived five miles away but told them what to do until he came.

Ann busied herself following his instructions while Grace looked on, saying how much worse it might have been and so on.

Finally impatiently told her to keep still, that it was bad enough as it was.

It was a simple fracture, but after he had set the leg the doctor told Dick he must keep it off for at least six weeks.

A groan was his only answer. Six weeks, and the orange crop almost ready to be gathered. It might as well be six months.

Ann reading his thoughts, frightened herself, tried to soothe him, telling him everything would be attended to, he mustn't worry.

Suddenly Grace spoke:

"I'll be nurse, Ann. Someone will have to help you, and I'll stay."

"That's right, young lady, be helpful," the good doctor said ignorant, of course, of Ann's feeling toward Grace her dislike at having her in the house.

Grace telephoned Ned what had happened, asked him to bring her clothes over in the morning. Ann, occupied with Dick, paid no attention hardly realizing what was going on, too shocked, too dazed to object even had she.

"I'll sit by Dick," Grace said after the doctor left.

"You'll—"

"Yes, I'm going to help nurse him. I've told Ned to bring over my clothes."

"I shall sit with him myself," Ann said in a strained voice, not yet comprehending, thinking only at the moment that Grace meant for that night.

"You lie there room, Dick now was comfortably fixed in bed. "You'll find the bedding in the closet."

With a look Ann could not fathom which she did not try to, but which made her uncomfortable.

Grace moved into the other room; while Ann, almost ill from the fright and the thought of what an accident meant to them at this time, sat beside Dick until he slept.

GRAVE POSSIBILITIES

Revolves Around Dismissal of U. S. Consular Officers

Washington, March 9.—The state department made it known that Great Britain will not be permitted without proper amends to squirm out of the Newcastle incident, in which two American consular officers, Counsel Fred C. Slater and Vice Consul Russell M. Brooks, were dismissed last August under false charges.

The affair assumes the aspect of a serious diplomatic controversy, involving grave possibilities. It was brought to a head when the British embassy, on instructions from the foreign office, issued direct to the American newspaper representatives in Washington what purported to be their side of the case.

This brought a barrage from the state department. As soon as the British embassy's action was laid before Secretary Hughes, he ordered all the correspondence of this government on the subject given out. He accompanied the notes with a sharp statement setting forth this country's unyielding attitude.

Secretary Hughes declared the position of the state department is that "no illegal or improper conduct towards the laws or government of Great Britain has been committed, and that the only evidence of guilt which the British government has produced in support of its charges consisted of three unsigned statements, which upon examination by the department were not regarded as at all sufficient."

The American communications, all made in reply to British notes, showed for the first time the degree of arrogance with which the British undertook to handle the dismissal of the two consular representatives. But the British embassy statements disclosed an effort to smooth over the matter without undoing the injustice done or removing the unwarranted reflection upon the American foreign service.

The American government, Secretary Hughes' statement emphasizes, took the inevitable view that the British government charged the American representatives with improper conduct in the performance of their consular functions, "and has allowed these charges to become public." Therefore, it was incumbent upon the department to investigate carefully the charges, in order to demand whether or not the officers were guilty, and, if guilty, the extent of the discipline required. The department's investigation "conclusively" showed the charges "had not been substantiated."

YEGGS FOILED BUT EFFECT AN ESCAPE

Toledo, March 9.—Yeggs who shot their way through a posse of Cygnets citizens after an unsuccessful attempt to break into the Cygnets Savings Bank at Cygnets near here early today, successfully eluded Toledo police late this morning after a long chase on the Dixie Highway near Bowling Green.

BALFOUR REPLIES TO HARVEY.

London, March 9.—Ambassador Harvey's Pilgrim dinner speech, in which he made "unnecessary explanations" regarding the manner in which the British war debt to the United States was contracted, brought down on his head a scolding from Lord Balfour in the house of lords. "Whatever view is taken of the loans to Britain," said Balfour, "the fact remains that the American lenders got British securities, the allies got the help they needed, and we hold their promises to pay."

CONSTABLE IS SHOT

Frankfort, Ill., March 9.—John Kelley, constable at Zeigler, one of the men indicted in connection with the Herrick mine massacre of last June in which 22 men lost their lives, was shot and killed at Zeigler last night, according to work received here today. Zeigler is a small mining town near here.

NEGRO DEPUTY PROTESTS.

Paris, March 9.—The negro deputy, Candace, has made a protest to Premier Poincare at the recall of 200 West Indian creoles from the Ruhr. He demands a reply whether the order was the result of the "campaign of calumny by Germany against the blacks," and asserts that inasmuch as the French army is one-third colored, no distinction should be made for service on the Rhine.

FRENCH AND BRITISH ARE AT LOGGERHEADS IN RUHR

Cordial War-time Sentiment Between Two Nations Fast
Vanishing, as Soldiers are Openly Unfriendly—
Britain to Stay in Germany.

Essen, March 9.—The cordial war-time sentiment between the British and French is fast vanishing, according to opinion expressed here today by persons, who have just returned from Cologne bridgehead, where the British have been surrounded by French occupational troops in the past few days.

The British bulldog is holding on. John Bull will not relinquish his grip upon the Cologne bridgehead, no matter how hard the French may try to get his goat and make him throw up his job in disgust. John Bull is not going home—at least for some time. That is evident.

International News Service, after an investigation is able to reveal facts which the British newspapers do not care to publish. They fear that publication of the real truth might tear down the last shreds of the artificial harmony existing over the Ruhr entente. The French and British on the Rhine are at loggerheads. But it would be folly to say that the Anglo-French entente is endangered. This entente may exist for years after the foundations for it have crumbled. There is common cause.

France and Great Britain are the two most powerful nations in Europe. They are the only two nations in a position to go to war. To prevent military suicide they must be friends, not enemies. But even being friends, they might have their squabbles.

The enmity that exists between the two nations is, for the most part, on the part of the soldiers. The officers and men in the British military zone of occupation are not friendly towards the French and they are not averse to showing it.

Henry Ford on Brief Visit, To Xenia Friday Morning Interviewed by Newspaper

Famous Automobile Manufacturer Declines to Discuss
Politics When Reporter Sees Him at Home of His Brother-in-law, E. R. Bryant.

Smiling benignly, while he fondled Betty and Bobby Bryant, Henry Ford, multi-millionaire automobile manufacturer and one of the biggest figures in America's industrial world, sat at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bryant, 215 West Second Street, Friday noon, and talked as little as possible about things which a trembling interviewer wanted him to talk about.

If Mr. Ford greets all newspapermen alike, the reporter, who draws

On the last leg of a business trip from southern Ohio, including a visit to his plant at Hamilton, Mr. Ford stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant for a short visit before returning his auto trip to his home in Detroit, Mich. Mr. Bryant is a brother of Mrs. Ford, but this is the first time that the motor magnate has had an opportunity for a social call on his relatives here and he was making the most of his limited time in renewing acquaintances with Bobby and Betty.

Mr. Ford arrived in Xenia in a Lincoln enclosed car shortly before noon. He stopped at the Bryant Auto Sales Company, Market and Greene Streets, where he learned that his brother-in-law was superintending a number of new Fords at the Pennsylvania freight office. Obtaining directions he had his chauffeur drive him there and with Mr. Bryant went directly to the Bryant home on East Second Street. In the meantime the reporter, in a Ford taxicab, drove to the freight house too late and then cornered Mr. Ford at the home of his relatives.

Although apparently not loquacious, Henry Ford is pleasant and kindly. He readily consented to the interview. He has become accustomed to them and accepts his fate resignedly as one of the burdens incumbent upon a man of international prominence. He leaned back in his chair and apparently awaited a barrage of interrogations. Mr. Ford is tall and slender. Although his hair is silver his face and figure belie the age that is usually associated with gray hair. He appears to be in particularly good physically condition. A chronic smile plays around his mouth.

The manufacturer does not take kindly to being questioned concerning politics. Whether he will consent to his name being used as a presidential candidate in 1924 is something somebody else will have to find out. Mr. Ford refused to discuss it Friday.

Controversy Between American Ambassador and Balfour Over the Latters Circular Note On British Debt Draws Interest.

Washington, March 9.—The State Department will continue to take no notice of the controversy between Ambassador Harvey and Earl Balfour over the latter's circular note on the British debt, it was learned officially today.

When Harvey discussed the Balfour note in London he was basing his remarks, according to officials, on utterances of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, but was without instructions from Washington.

INSTANTLY KILLED AS AUTO WRECKED

Newport, Ky., March 9.—Fred Beck, 25, was killed instantly last night when the automobile in which he was riding with Milton Bregel, 27 and William Retchert, 28 plunged down a 30 foot embankment after hitting a bridge abutment near Silver Grove, Ky.

Beck was pinned beneath the overturned car, while the two others escaped with minor injuries. Bregel, who was driving, is a son of Police Chief Frank Bregel of Newport. Retchert also resides here, as did Beck.

Tokio, March 9.—Abrogation, or at least revision of the famous "twenty demands" is demanded in documents which a Chinese courier, arriving in Tokyo next week, is bringing to the Chinese legation for presentation to the Japanese foreign office, according to belief becoming general in Tokyo today.

Involved in these treaties is the rich Liaotung Peninsula interests, including Port Arthur which Japan has long promised she would fight

O'RYAN SPECIAL COUNSEL IN VET BUREAU PROBE

Former Soldier Will
Begin Inquiry at Once.

Washington, March 9.—Major General John F. O'Ryan of New York, former commander of that state's national guard division overseas, has been appointed special counsel for the senate commission to investigate the veteran's bureau.

O'Ryan will begin immediately an inquiry into the charges of irregularities and mismanagement of the bureau that prompted the senate to order an inquiry.

General O'Ryan is to have absolute freedom of action in making the preliminary investigation, it was stated. While the senate committee will not be in session for upwards of 30 days he will be preparing the evidence that is to be submitted when it convenes again.

So far as possible, it was stated, he will gather the papers in the veteran's bureau that are expected to shed light on charges of irregularities and classify them, so that the committee may proceed without undue delay. He is also to make a special survey of the hospital conditions and be prepared to make recommendations for changes should any be desired.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, new director of the bureau, returned from New York and immediately set up machinery within the bureau to supply General O'Ryan with any and all information that he may request. General Hines declared that the bureau would give General O'Ryan access to any and all records.

The selection of General O'Ryan was generally approved by veteran organizations. He fills the requirements of a successful lawyer in civil life and is a former service man with a grasp of the actual needs of the disabled man, it was stated. He is one of the few division commanders to command his unit throughout the world war.

"General O'Ryan has been rightfully described as the highest type of American citizen-soldier," said C. Hamilton Cook, national commander of the disabled American veterans. "He is about to enter upon a new duty which will offer the opportunity for enshrining himself forever in the hearts of tens of thousands of the nation's disabled who have suffered from the harrowing conditions that have been allowed to continue month after month and year after year in the governmental agency that is supposed to relieve the men who were scarred in the nation's service."

SENATE DEFEATS PLAN TO REVIVE CONSPIRACY BILL

Measure Dead Following
Request for Reconsideration is Voted Down.

Columbus, March 9.—The Ohio senate defeated an attempt to revive the Jenkins conspiracy bill, which was voted down in the senate last Tuesday. Senator Collier of Cleveland, who voted against the measure Tuesday, moved to reconsider the bill, but on roll call his motion was defeated, 16 to 19. The bill was backed by James A. White, head of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, and despite desperate efforts to have it passed, it is now definitely dead.

Four senators who voted for the measure Tuesday joined those opposing the bill. They were: Wenger of Ashtabula, Jones of Trumbull, Farnsworth of Toledo and Price of Akron. The bill would make all misdemeanors punishable as conspiracies against the state when two or more persons are involved.

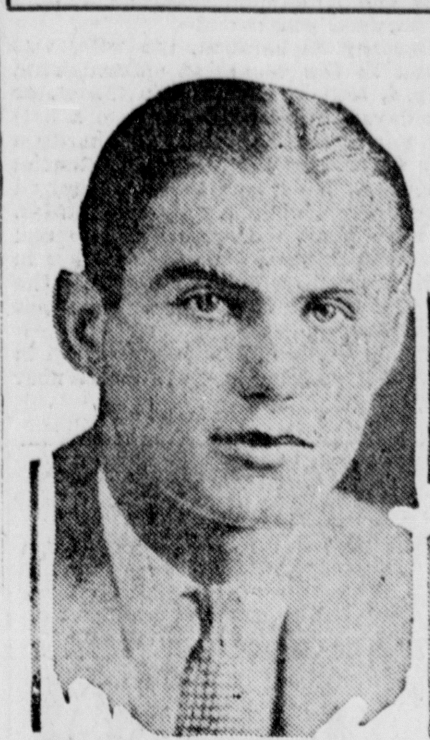

PARIS FEARS BIG FLOOD.

Paris, March 9.—Continuous rains again aroused the fear of Paris authorities that the city is doomed to suffer from floods. Although the Seine is still a full yard short of the veritable danger mark, it has risen 70 inches in 12 days, and the upper level of the Seine is higher than at any time except in 1910, when a large part of Paris was under water. Several streets in outlying suburbs have already been inundated.

Springfield, O., March 9.—Fears that the defalcation in the accounts of the Springfield National Bank may exceed $1,000,000 were expressed here today, when it was announced that a shortage of more than $250,000 in bonds in safe deposit boxes had been found in a partial check.

Albany, N. Y., March 9.—Three-year-old Leo Minkin, son of City Court Judge Leopold Minkin, is mysteriously missing and local police fear today they have a kidnapping case on their hands.

Six hours after Mary Conkling, 20, had been hired yesterday as a nursemaid in the Minkin home, she and the child disappeared.

When last seen, the girl and child were on a trolley car headed for the downtown section of the city.

DOCTOR CANNOT GET LIQUOR FOR SELF

Columbus, March 9.—Although a physician may prescribe liquor for others, he must go without it himself unless he can find a fellow physician to add him, said Ohio Federal Prohibition Director J. E. Russell, at a meeting of the general practitioners' medical society here.

A physician may buy six quarts of whiskey each year to be used in his practice, Russell explained. A careful record must be kept as to how the liquor is used and the record must be turned into the prohibition directors office, Russell said.

Russell branded as false reports that the Federal Prohibition Department had "let up" on the restrictions of the use of whiskey as a medicine.

BANDITS SAVE TIME AND ROB COLLECTOR

Columbus, March 9.—Filling station bandits here believe in saving time. Rather than rob four or five different stations separately two well dressed young men held up B. B. Gallahan, a collector for the Moore Oil Company and got away with between $700 and $800, the days receipts from a number of stations and Calahan's automobile.

Police were notified and immediately set chase, but were unable to find any trace of the young bandits.

Mrs. Redwine, police say calmly admitted that she fired the shots which may cost her husband his life.

SENATE DEFERS ACTION ON GASOLINE TAX BILL AS PROTESTS RECEIVED

Opposition of Auto Clubs Given as Reason for Postponement of Consideration of Measure—Woman
Presides Over Body

Columbus, March 9.—The House today passed the McCreery-Sullivan bill by a vote of 72 to 19, providing for at least 100 minutes a week of physical education in the public schools, in addition to the regular instruction and instruction in physiology and hygiene. Regulations of the physical education are to be prescribed by the director of education. This bill was fostered by the American Legion. It now goes to the governor.

The house also passed the following bills:

By Buchanan, increasing the penalty for unlawfully entering residences, business houses and banks, and attempting to commit a felony, by Lipp, authorizing city councils to fix the fare on elevated railroads in municipalities; by Bragg, increasing the cost of Lake Erie fishing licenses and fees; and by Garver, providing for obtaining of roads through lands of another and for awarding compensation and damages.

Columbus, O., March 9.—Honor of being the first woman to preside over the Ohio Senate falls upon Mrs. Nettie B. Loughhead, Cincinnati, a state senator. Lieut. Gov. Bloom late yesterday, handed the gavel over to Senator Loughhead who posed for a picture. Returning to her seat after a few minutes, she was congratulated by the other senators.

Action of the House highways committee in deferring further consideration of the gasoline tax bill until next Tuesday is attributed to opposition of auto clubs throughout the state to the measure. Republican legislative leaders are credited with being divided as to the wisdom of enacting such a law. It had been expected that the committee would report the bill out favorably yesterday.

Republican leaders, it is said, favor passage of the bill, reported out by the house insurance committee, requiring companies desiring to sell stock in Ohio to file a prospectus with the state securities commission and providing that ten days must expire before the stock can be marketed. This time could be extended to 21 days by the state securities commissioner. Stock sales would be permissible afterwards unless a stop sale order was issued. The bill, also, requires dealers to register and furnish $10,000 bonds each, to protect purchasers against misrepresentation. Each salesman would have to put up a $2,500 bond.

ISADORA DUNCAN NO LONGER CITIZEN OF THE UNITED STATES

Washington, March 9.—Isadora Duncan, the temperamental dancer, whose recent outburst against America and American institutions aroused the ire of Secretary of Labor Davis, is no longer an American citizen, although born in this country, said an official statement put out by the labor department today.

When Miss Duncan married Serge Essonine, Russian poet, on April 1, 1922, according to the statement, she acquired Russian citizenship and probably will have difficulty in again becoming an American citizen if she desired to do so.

POLICEMAN GUARDS BANK CASHIER WHO EMBEZZLED FUNDS

A. H. Penfield Placed Under Arrest—Bond Not Furnished

Springfield, O., March 9.—With the home of Dr. D. K. Gotwald, father in law of A. H. Penfield, cashier of the closed Springfield National Bank under guard, and Penfield formally charged with embezzlement of $600,000 of the bank's funds, a meeting of directors of the bank was scheduled for later in the day in the hope of determining whether or not an attempt would be made to make good the defalcation and re-open its doors.

Penfield was formally placed under arrest last night at 6 o'clock, while lying in his bed. He entered a plea of not guilty, and a preliminary hearing was set for March 20, before U. S. Commissioner Floyd Johnson. His bond was fixed at $25,000, which he was unable to furnish, although it was expected that arrangements would be made today for this purpose.

Penfield is charged in the warrant with "knowingly, wrongfully and wilfully" embezzling and converting to "his own use approximately the sum of $600,000 more or less of said money, funds and securities" of the Springfield National Bank to his own use.

It was said today that a receiver for the bank may not be named for several days or until the bank examiners are able to make a definite statement of the amount of the shortage.

This statement was made by George S. Dial, director, and one of the principal stockholders in the Springfield National Bank.

BROKERAGE FIRM IN CINCINNATI IS ALLEGED INVOLVED

Receiver Will Soon Be
Named for Company it
is Now Claimed

Cincinnati, March 9.—Financial circles in Cincinnati were shocked last night by swiftly moving developments involving the affairs of Beazell and Chatfield, brokers, a firm whose junior partner, William H. Chatfield, Jr., then a State Senator, last year, was the Republican nominee for the lieutenant governorship of Ohio.

First intimations of abnormal conditions came with the unexplained stopping of the tape ticker in the office of the company. When it became known that the firm was not receiving the customary quotations, inquiry in New York brought information that the ticker service had been halted on orders of the New York Stock Exchange. Neither of the partners could be reached, and rumors current in financial circles covered a broad field of speculation.

It then was reported that the stock exchange mandate had been predicated upon a rule excluding transmission of quotations from the exchange in New York to firms refusing to submit to examinations of their records.

While former Senator Chatfield was speeding homeward from the east, George H. Beazell, the senior partner, was in consultation with attorneys who soon filed suit for appointment of a receiver.

The petition alleged that the firm's eastern representatives, Hornblower and Weeks, New York, had closed out the Beazell-Chatfield account, the transactions involving securities valued at more than $1,000,000.

JAMES GLASS' 67.
SUCCUMBS THURSDAY

Jamestown, March 9.—James Glass, 67, well-known farmer of east of Jamestown on the Jeffersonville pike, died Thursday morning at four o'clock. He had been ill two weeks, his illness beginning with an attack of grip and developing into pneumonia which caused his death.

Mrs. Glass preceded her husband in death several years but three children are surviving. They are Osborn Glass and Misses Clara and Cora all at home. He also leaves three brothers, Harvey Glass, Jamestown grocer and John and Albert Glass, also of Jamestown and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Morris of Jamestown, Mrs. Emily Sheley of Springfield and Mrs. Jennie Moorman of Seattle, Washington.

Mr. Glass was a life-long member of the Jamestown Church of Christ. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the home in charge of the Rev. J. Earl Pryor, pastor of the Jamestown Church of Christ and burial will be made in the Jamestown Cemetery.

Learn of Death in Michigan

Jamestown relatives of Mr. and Mrs. David Edgar Carpenter are sorry to learn of his death which occurred at his home near Ellsworth, Mich. Mr. Carpenter was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Carpenter who resided near Bowersville, where he was born and reared. After his marriage to Miss Jacqueline Bentley he moved to Michigan. Besides the widow he leaves seven sons and four daughters and two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Sellers, of Washington C. H. Miss Linna of Ellsworth, Mich., and two brothers, John W. of Springfield and Frank D. of Chicago. Mr. Carpenter had joined the M. E. Church at Bowersville at the age of 16 years and remained a faithful member of the church.

Friends Attend Services

Many relatives and friends gathered at the late home of Mrs. Rebecca Mercer Connor on Wednesday afternoon for her funeral services, which were conducted by the Rev. Charles W. Moorman, who read a number of scriptural selections, which was followed by prayer. He based his remarks upon the sixth verse of the first chapter of Exodus, One hymn "How Firm a Foundation" was sung by the Misses Lillian and Cordella Connor. Floral offerings were sent to the respect of which Mrs. Connor was held. Those serving as pall bearers were Eugene Buco, Abel Buco, Leonard Connor, Orange Connor, Lyle Connor and Darris Custer. Interment was made in the Jamestown Cemetery.

Personals

Mr. William Haughey of Dayton is visiting his cousin, J. Q. Baker.

Mrs. Uriah D. Paulin is recovering from a long illness and is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Orlando Turnbull.

Entertains Sewing Club

Mrs. Arthur Jenks was the hostess to her sewing club and gave the members a most delightful afternoon on Wednesday. Social conversation and laughter prevailed while fancy needlework was being done. Mrs. Jenks was assisted by her little daughter Mary Alice and little Miss Mary Sutton in serving a delicious refreshment course. Mrs. Jesse Leveck will be the next hostess.

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Allbaugh have taken rooms at the home of Jesse Walthall until a house can be secured. There being no vacancies in sight.

Mr. Frank Crowe, a former Jamestown boy, but now of Cincinnati, where he has been for the past few years engaged in the real estate business, was here to attend the funeral services of Mrs. John Campbell. Chester Campbell is now associated with Mr. Crowe in the business which is a prosperous one.

Mrs. Martha Glass is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ora Horney near Jeffersonville. Mrs. Glass has been in failing health for the past year.

The condition of Mrs. T. L. Moore remains unchanged.

James Tidd has purchased the Hoover-Watson farm, north of Jamestown. The farm contains 100 acres.

Returns With Victory

Coch Stoner's basketball team came home from Yellow Springs carrying the long end of the score from the Academy team 21 to 14 in favor of Jamestown. The Jamestown girls did not fare so well as the Academy girls won out by a score of 29 to 13. Both games were hard contested, encouraged in their determination because of the nearness of the county tournament.

CHARGE IS NOLLED—
JURY DISAGREES

Frank Richardson, 40, colored, of Springfield, formerly of Yellow Springs, who was tried for wife murder in Dayton, last December, was released from custody Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Robert C. Patterson.

The jury in the trial failed to agree and was dismissed after 17 hours deliberations. On his release from custody the indictment returned against Richardson was nolle.

Dorothy Richardson, his wife, was found in the canal at Miamisburg, May 4, 1921, after being in the water ten days. Death resulted from a bullet wound in the side and Richardson was later arrested on circumstantial evidence. He is said to have acquired a revolver shortly before the murder, to have quarreled with his wife and was seen in an automobile with her in Yellow Springs, April 24, 1921, the day the woman is alleged to have met her death.

Richardson's first wife met death in a similar manner in Buck creek near Springfield, it is said.

FINDS THE RIGHT REMEDY
AND REGAINS HER HEALTH

MRS. ELIZABETH WELLERD, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

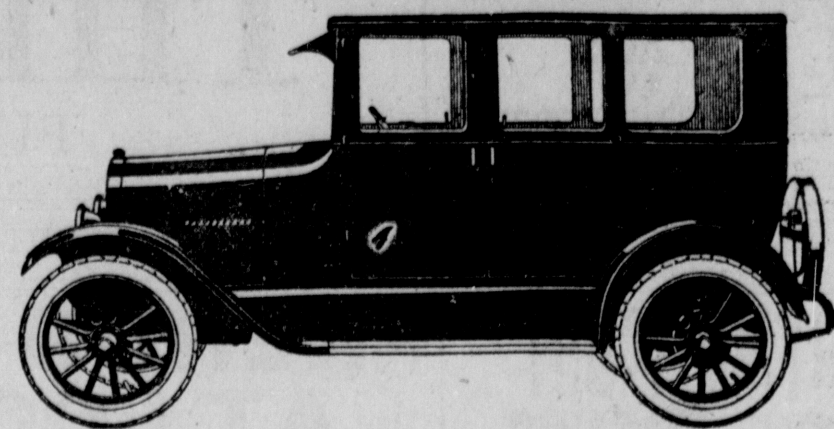

Suffered From Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism—Wants Her Friends to Know of Her Recovery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wellerd, an aged resident of Columbus, living at 314 S. Fourth street, is a strong believer in Ka-di-ok. In relating her experience, she says: "I was bothered a great deal with rheumatism, stomach trouble, and was in poor health generally. I had severe attacks of indigestion and bloating pains after eating, and ate very little food at that—hardly enough to keep alive. I was unable to sleep at night and usually in the evening my feet and limbs would ache all over with rheumatism and I would feel all crippled up. I tried Ka-di-ok and it helped me right away. My appetite is very good now and I get my sleep. I am getting around pretty well and have hardly been bothered at all with rheumatism. I have taken, all told, four bottles of Ka-di-ok, and it has helped me wonderfully. I want my friends and neighbors to know what a fine remedy Ka-di-ok is."

Ka-ch-ok will be found to be a very efficient remedy for persons suffering from the after effects of the "flu."

It can be obtained in Xenia at Sayre and Hemphill's Drug Store.

PHI DELT DINNER DANCE GIVEN THURSDAY

Members of the Ohio Beta Beta Chapter, of the Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity launched another form of pleasurable entertainment at the fraternity rooms in the Kingsbury building, Thursday evening, when they were hosts to the members of the cast of "The Phi Delt Follies of 1923," at dinner, the affair culminating the social features of the show.

In appreciation of the services of the show cast, a delicious two-course dinner was served, at attractively arranged tables in the club rooms, covers being laid for over fifty people. Lighted red tapers, with favors of red carnations, added in carrying out the fraternity colors of red and white, in the dinner appointments.

Mr. Arthur Reynolds presided as toastmaster following the dinner, expressing the appreciation of the fraternity brothers for the support given the show, calling on Mr. Robert Hurley, director of the "Follies," Mr. Raymond Stiles, president of the Phi Delt, and guests for short talks. Miss Cleo Hurley expressed the sentiment of the cast for the "good times," afforded during the local production. Several acts from the "Follies" were reproduced for the amusement of the guests at the close. Several Phi Delta Kappa members from Dayton, were among the dinner guests.

At nine o'clock the entire company adjourned to the Elk's Club, where a "Phi Delt Hop" for the cast was staged, and to which friends of the guests were invited. Shepherds Entertainers furnished the music for the affair. Novelty features interspersed the straight dance program. Visiting Phi Delt from Dayton and Washington, and other guests attended the function.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells! This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1828, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a calamity-prone. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peppy, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

DEHAVEN ELECTED MAYOR OF XENIA THURSDAY EVENING

Dr. A. D. DeHaven was elected mayor of Xenia Thursday night by the City Commission in regular session at City Hall. Dr. DeHaven succeeds the late M. J. Hartley, in this official capacity. The position is largely honorary, carrying no administrative duties.

Dr. DeHaven is one of the original members of the City Commission. He was elected first, January 1, 1918, and has served on that body ever since. His election to the office came on the first ballot at the meeting Thursday night and he assumed his position immediately.

S. M. McKay, newly elected member of the commission took his seat Thursday night for the first time. Mr. McKay was elected to a place on the commission two weeks ago to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mayor Hartley.

The seating of Mr. McKay followed a decision handed down in Common Pleas Court here, regarding a provision in the city charter, which led to a friendly suit, contesting the election of Mr. McKay, being filed. The court ruled that the election was legal.

At the request of property holders on Shawnee Street that that avenue be improved by narrowing between King and Galloway streets, the commission passed an ordinance providing for the requested changes. Property owners on the south side of the street plan to reclaim the section through which the small stream runs by covering it over and beautifying the section. That section is turned over to property holders by the ordinance. The annual street sprinkling ordinance was discussed at the meeting but no action on it taken.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney was instructed to take up the question of railroad crossings and tracks in the city with the Pennsylvania Railroad in the attempt to improve track conditions.

The condition of Mrs. Newton Swope of South Columbus Street, who has been quite ill is now improving.

TRAIN STOPS HERE

West-bound Pennsylvania train leaving Columbus at 9:10 p. m. and due in Xenia at 10:25 will stop here from now on it was announced Friday morning. The train which formerly made this city a regular stop, remained over for a few minutes Thursday evening for the first time since the new schedule went into effect. It will leave here for Dayton and St. Louis at 10:30 p. m.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Menthosulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Dowles Menthosulphur at any drug store.

CROWDER TAKES UP DUTIES AS ENVOY TO CUBA.

Escorted with military pomp from the legation building to the presidential palace Monday, Major General Crowder presented his credentials to President Zayas as Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the American Government to the Government of Cuba. He is the first ambassador to be accredited to Cuba.

In his address General Crowder said: "The bonds of affection and respect which unite our countries are strengthened by the fact that both have been, not only neighbors in peace, but also brothers in arms in two great conflicts each having for its righteous aim similar and related ends. The bonds of mutual interest and friendship born of such associations are well nigh indissoluble.

"Under such conditions we may look forward to complete success in the realization of the very strong desire of my Government that all those great transformations which have been undertaken under your excellency's Administration for the welfare of the Republic of Cuba will be continued and completed in a definite way.

"It is perhaps of rare occurrence that an accredited diplomatic representative to a foreign country in presenting his credentials speaks to the chief executive and through him to a people with whom he has had uninterrupted personal acquaintance and friendship covering a period of nearly seventeen years. I cannot permit myself to doubt that the mutual understanding developed during so long a period will be a source of greatest aid to me in discharging my duties near your excellency's Government."

PASSING FIGURES.

For better or for worse, something of the ancient and familiar quality that the American Congress has had since Reconstruction days departed with the fall of the gavel on Sunday. Not in our time have so many figures of national and sectional importance passed from the Capitol.

Of the 127 members of the Lower House who have gone into lasting or temporary eclipse, the best known and today the best loved is Joseph Gurney Cannon, the famed and sometimes profane old war horse from the Eighteenth Illinois District, who first came to Congress fifty long years ago. His name is written indelibly in our political history and he enriched the vocabulary of politics with the word "Cannonism." He was a Czar in his time and the best-hated man in Congress. He departs full of years and of honors and well beloved. In his way and his day he was efficient. He knew the value of leadership and party discipline. He got things done. The Nation owes much to the old and broken man who has given it so many years of his life.

As Cannon the Republican goes from the House, Williams the Democrat passes from the Senate. Both go of their own will and volition. John Sharp Williams quits disgusted with the Senate. This lawyer, cotton planter, son of the Old South and gentleman of Mississippi, was one of the Senate's intellectuals. For sixteen years in the House and eight in the Senate he was an outstanding figure in the South and a power in his party. He goes back to his fields and his books, deeming the Senate an unclean place. He will be missed, for while he has served his State well, he has served the Nation better.

A POOR WITNESS.

The New York World and other "wet" papers are making a prodigious outcry over the fact that the Anti-Saloon League fund for New York totals $250,000 a year. Precisely how much money do the wets think it proper should be spent for their undoing? And are they exactly the source to which people should look for unbiased opinions on the subject? Take the World alone as a factor. The whole amount available for the Anti-Saloon League could not secure as much publicity for the law and its merits as that newspaper is giving to the effort to overthrow it.

WHITE MAN VS. BROWN.

The white man is in a fair way to lose control of the Hawaiian Islands. Forty-three of every hundred residents there are Japanese. The native Hawaiian is dying out and disappearing before these Orientals, who are replacing him. These Asiatics now have a labor monopoly there. Two years ago they used it in a plantation strike that was costly and paralyzing. Since then American planters in the islands have begged Washington for relief from a situation that is growing intolerable.

This has been regarded as a labor question; but if the Senate Immigration Committee is right, it is more than that. When the committee points out that the islands are about to pass under the political and industrial control of Asiatics, what may have been a labor problem two years ago takes on another and more sinister color.

A few thousands more Japanese and a few thousand fewer of other races and the brown men will outnumber the total of all other races in Hawaii. These Japanese stick together, as California and Arizona know. With this racial and aggressive solidarity of theirs, there is more than a probability that Hawaiian industry will pass into their hands unless something is done.

The white plantation owners are at the mercy of Japanese workers.

ANOTHER "NEW DEPARTURE" FOR WOMEN.

In attaining her appointment as America's first woman diplomatist, officially accredited, Miss Lucile Atcherson, of Columbus, Ohio, has well upheld the traditions of her state. Ohio, that is to say, was one of the early states in the Union to urge woman suffrage, it was the first to admit women to its colleges, the first to elect a woman to sit on its Supreme Court bench, and the first to send to Washington a woman federal prohibition agent. Miss Atcherson appreciates the fact that she has a certain amount of prejudice to overcome in her new work, but is devoting herself to the task before her wholeheartedly, not only for her own sake, but for the sake of other women who, she hopes, will find themselves fitted to come into the Diplomatic Corps. From such a standpoint she is justified in expecting that a large measure of success will attend her efforts.

ARE WE GETTING TO BE A NATION OF COMMON SCOLDS?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The Greene County Bee and Horticultural Society held a meeting in Xenia, March 5th. The bee men reported bees in good condition. The few warmer days have brought the little workers out in full force and ready for business. The general impression is that peaches are killed yet some are favorable. Cherries and plums are considerable damaged. Apples are not damaged. A number of Xenia Society young folks have received invitation to a reception dance to be given at the Armory hall, Wilmington, March 19.

Wheels are going about in a business-like manner and quite a force is employed at the Baldwin automobile factory at the new location corner of Church and Whitman streets. It is the plan of Mr. Baldwin to get a foundry in operation and thus be enabled to turn out his own castings and make the automobile in its entirety at this factory. He hopes soon to be turning out one automobile each week.

The main topic in Xenia every where at this time is the political situation. There are now five candidates for mayor in the field. The indications at this time are that the Republicans will arrange to put forth a ticket.

A CHAT ABOUT TEETH

Bad dentists are too anxious to pull out teeth, good dentists too anxious to save them.

If a man has not the skill to cure and preserve a diseased tooth he naturally wants it out and all its troubles with it, for the gum will heal easily and false teeth are not difficult to put in.

Good dentists, on the other hand, are sometimes too anxious to use their skill and knowledge in saving a practically worthless tooth.

The only solution really seems to be to go to the dentist so frequently that the teeth never have a chance to become unhealthy.

This means, of course, a visit once every six months to a man whose skill you can trust.

The teeth should then be thoroughly cleaned of tartar which may get up under the gums and cause pyorrhea, and any small filling attended to.

If you go every six months that's all that will ever happen to the teeth.

It is true, of course, that all sorts of unexpected diseases have their origin in bad teeth and gums and that, although the mouth may seem healthy enough with no visible caries, the germs of dozens of troubles may lurk deep down where the teeth have their roots.

The English dentist, I believe, ascribes most human ailments to this hard to get at cause. The American dentist, as yet, does not entirely agree with him.

Which of the two are right I cannot say. American dentists have the greatest reputations in the world. It is said that there is one attached to practically every foreign Court, and the American dentists of foreign towns usually have the top-most reputations and prices.

The most important thing in the care of the teeth is having them properly cleaned and, Jew dentists do this. They will clean them so that they look well with brushes and pumice and even implements to scrape off the tartar, but few go under the edge of the gum where the tartar causes pyorrhea.

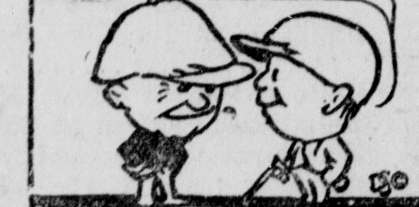

Keep the skin from growing over the base of the nail. In other words, go over your nails every day giving them the few minutes care that will keep them in condition, then rub plenty of cream into the roots of the nails, and be generous with the buffing as that keeps the blood circulating under them.

All these little attentions will combine to keep the nails from getting dry and ugly even though you are compelled to do all of your housework.

IS THERE A REAL LIFE

When we get tired and very discouraged, and are quite lonely—and we look upon the fallen wall of much that we have tried to build—life does not seem very real. We wonder why we are here, and what it is all about anyway.

Stars, and beautiful sky colorings, lovely forests and streams, laughing waterfall, trusting pansies, and flowers bursting with perfume, mean so little then.

But when our moments of greatest strength come, these very same things magnify our appreciation of all that is beautiful, and each in its turn has a new argument for all that is enduring—the greatest of which is life itself.

This life is very real when we put realism into it.

If we keep taking from our wonderful storehouse that which has been given us for times of emergency, and waste it along the way, we must not complain when at the height of the race of life we find ourselves passed by someone who has conserved.

And we mustn't say then that life plays favorites.

We play favorites with ourselves—or we don't!

One thing is certain, God didn't build this great world and then run off and forget all about it.

A little while ago I looked out of my window and saw an earth that was wrapping about its throat a gorgeous coat of the whitest snow

The sun was creeping through the trees beyond where I looked. Soon the ground sparkled like one great mass of tiny diamonds.

Tonight I stood upon the porch of the house where I am living for a little while and looked into a tropic night sky—a canopy of pure opal. A new moon, cut like a cameo. A few stars peeping out to see if anyone wanted to talk to them. And palms throwing whispered love across the vast space, from here below to there above.

When I do most to make others happy, this seems a very real and happy life.

JUDGE J. A. McMAHON PROMINENT DAYTON LAWYER IS DEAD

Judge John A. McMahon, 90, dean of the Montgomery County Bar, former congressman, lawyer and prominent in business and industry in Dayton many years, died at 9:15 o'clock Thursday night at his residence, 127 North Perry Street, Dayton.

Judge McMahon suffered injuries in a fall in August, 1922, from which he never recovered. He was born in Frederick County, Maryland, February 19, 1833, his father, John V. McMahon, of Baltimore, being one of the distinguished members of the Maryland bar. After attending various schools Judge McMahon went to St. Xavier at Cincinnati, where he completed the full collegiate course, graduating with the class of 1849 with honor. He afterward remained at the school as instructor until June, 1860.

Judge McMahon went to Dayton in 1861 and entered upon the study of law with C. P. Valandingham as his preceptor. He was admitted to the bar in 1864 and entered into partnership with his preceptor, who was his uncle. He soon won himself a prominent place at the Dayton bar. After his partner entered the political field he practiced alone for a time and then entered a partnership with George W. Houk that was maintained until January 1880.

Although he took little part in politics, he was named as a delegate at large to the Democratic national convention in Baltimore in 1872 and in 1874 accepted the nomination for Congress. He was elected and served prominently during his first term, so that he was re-elected a member of the forty-fifth Congress. At the conclusion of his second term he was elected to a third term and after that retired from public life in 1881 resuming the practice of law in Dayton. Afterward however he was a candidate for U. S. Senator and was a runner-up in the race and later was Democratic delegate to the national convention in St. Louis in 1904.

Probably the most notable of his legal achievements was the writing of the conservancy law, which he started a few months after the disastrous Dayton flood of 1913 and on which he worked constantly more than four months. He was also active in the passage of the law and for more than four years afterward was active in defending the law against its enemies. He retired from practice December 1, 1920 and was then retained by the firm of McMahon, Corwin and Landis as consulting counsel.

Judge McMahon was not affiliated with any fraternal organizations but was a member of the Buz Pix Club, and a non-resident member of the Queen City Club of Cincinnati and was for several years a member of the Dayton City Club. He was a member of Christ Episcopal Church of Dayton. His wife was formerly Miss Mary R. Sprigg of Cumberland, Md., whom he married January 23, 1861. Surviving is one son, J. Sprigg McMahon, Dayton attorney and one daughter, Louise McMahon, who lives at home.

STAGE SET FOR ANNUAL ANTIOCH TOURNEY
MERCHANTS IN FINAL GO; M'KINLEY ENTERS TOURNEY
CITY SERIES READY—EAST HAS 3 GAMES

ANTIOCH TOURNAMENT READY

Boys and girls high school basketball teams from all over Greene County are ready for the whistle Saturday morning that will send them together in the annual Antioch College Greene County High School basketball tournament, to decide the boys and girls champions of the county.

For the first time in the history of the annual tournament at the Yellow Springs school, the Central High quintet will not be represented among the teams contending for county honors. Xenia Central won the first honors at the meetings on two different occasions and was a runner up in practically every tournament held.

The stage is set for the 1923 gathering according to William Wardman, chairman of the tournament committees. The Letter A Association of Antioch, composed of students who have won their letter in athletics, are in charge of the event this year. William Kitchen will be manager of the floor during the games and Marion Richardson and Ernest Henderson are in charge of the tickets. Charles Soden, Ohio State University will referee all boys' games and Miss Elizabeth Kye of Columbia University will handle the whistle in the girls' games.

Preliminaries in the girls' division were played off last week with the following results: Osborn 12, Bath High 5; Bowersville 21, Spring Valley 3; Yellow Springs 24, Beaver 4; Ross 15, Cedarville 7; Jamestown 8, Osborn 2. This leaves Jamestown, Yellow Springs, Ross and Bowersville in the tournament and of these Jamestown, Yellow Springs and Ross are considered the strongest contenders.

Drawings will take place Saturday morning when the teams arrive and play in the first round of the boys' games will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The semi-finals both boys and girls will start at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and the girls' finals will be played at seven o'clock at night with the final boys game being staged at eight o'clock. Boys-teams entered are: Cedarville, Jamestown, Yellow Springs, Spring Valley, Sugar Creek, Beaver Creek, Bowersville, Caesar Creek and Ross. Cedarville and Jamestown are considered the strongest contenders.

M'KINLEY IN TOURNEY

Coach Austin Black's McKinley Junior High first string quintet is entered in the eighth-grade basketball tournament being held in connection with the high school tournament at Wilmington College, Wilmington Saturday.

The games in the eighth grade division will be played Saturday afternoon and Coach Black will leave here with his team at 12 o'clock by automobile. A cup is offered for the tourney winner in this section and the McKinley athletes have high hopes of bringing that trophy back with them.

McKinley will lineup with Huston, H. H. Smith, H. Parks, C. Henrie, I. Routzong, R. F. Smith, Hagler and Luttrell will be the reserves.

CITY SERIES STARTS WEDNESDAY

The basketball championship of Xenia City will be decided in the series of games to start next Wednesday, March 14, at the Rink between the Xenia Autos and the Xenia American Legion, the crack colored quintet.

These teams are acknowledged at the top of the heap in local basketball circles. The Autos, composed of athletes from the fastest court company in Dayton, recently completed a most successful season. The Legion also has brought to close a regular season replete with many floor triumphs.

The Autos, under the name of the Elders, are now leading the Municipal League in Dayton, which is no mean feat considering the calibre of teams listed in that league's standing. The Autos came from behind in the second half of their last game with the Dayton Scales and assumed the loop leadership in one of the toughest court struggles ever witnessed in Dayton.

The first game of the city series here will be played next Wednesday with both teams presenting regular lineups, and the second contest will be staged on the Wednesday following. Managements of both teams are anticipating large crowds, and have arranged for reserved seats for fans who buy in advance. An admission of 55 cents will be charged.

EAST HIGH WILL BE BUSY

Three games will be staged at the East High gym Friday night. The first game will bring together two girl teams the East High first team and the East High second string girls.

In the second game of the evening

INTERNATIONAL MOTOR TRUCKS

Make Long Hauls Short

IT IS IMPORTANT that a farmer should be equipped to save time on the road so that he can devote more of his time to productive work. With an International, hauling jobs can be done in one-half to one-third the time required by teams, especially where the market is located considerable distance from the farm.

By owning an International Motor Truck a farmer enlarges his market radius, making it possible for him to haul his live stock, grain and produce to a point where he can secure better prices. Long hauls will seem short, more trips can be made at greater speed with capacity loads. The result: a great deal of work can be done in a shorter period of time. To the farmer this means money.

At regular intervals four times a year International Motor Trucks are inspected by a corps of factory-trained road engineers. This service is free and available during the life of the truck.

The International line includes 14 sizes, from the 2,000-lb. Model S Speed Truck to the heavy-duty unit. Suitable bodies can be supplied for every farm hauling purpose.

Come in, we'll be glad to show you what we mean by low-cost hauling with Internationals

LOCAL CHURCHES ARE REPRESENTED AT M. E. CONFERENCE

The First M. E. Church and Trinity M. E. Church of this city, were represented at the district conference of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society Group, of the Springfield District at the Methodist Episcopal Church at Jamestown, Thursday.

Other churches included in the group represented at the session, were Union Circuit, Cedar, Selma, New Jasper and Jamestown. Over one hundred women attended the all day meeting.

In the absence of Mrs. Rosser of Arcanum, the president, Mrs. V. F. Brown, of Xenia, first vice-president, presided at the two sessions. The program opened with the devotional exercises led by the Rev. O. M. Bangham of the Jamestown M. E. Church. The corresponding secretary of the district Mrs. Herte Gibson, gave the roll call the various auxiliary workers responding.

The reports of the various secretaries followed. Mrs. Jenkinson of Catawba, who has charge of the children's work of the district, gave an interesting address along her line of work. The talk proceeded noon hour, during which a box lunch, with coffee served by the Jamestown women, was enjoyed.

Devotional exercises in charge of Mrs. C. L. Spencer of the First M. E. Church, Xenia, opened the afternoon session. A vocal solo by Mrs. Thorp of Jamestown was enjoyed. The main address of the day was given by Mrs. Eddy, a returned missionary from India, who told her experiences during her life among the Indians in an interesting fashion.

A offering was taken among the delegates, for funds to furnish the child of the Rev. and Mrs. Bangham of the Jamestown Church, a life membership into "The Light Bearers" a juvenile department of the work. The ten dollar fee was secured.

Delegates from Trinity M. E. Church were Mrs. V. F. Brown, Mrs. John A. Beatty and Mrs. John Ary, and from the First M. E. Church, Mrs. C. L. Spencer, Mrs. C. L. Babb, and Miss Jennie Thomas.

SHOE DEALERS ELECT OFFICERS

Columbus, Mar. 9.—C. B. Klingersmith, Youngstown, was elected president of the Ohio Valley Retail Shoe Dealers' Association at their annual convention here.

Other new officers are: P. W. Crawford, Lima; C. E. Petot, Cleveland, and Charles Seidenfield, Murray City, vice presidents; Harry F. Hagerman, of Columbus, secretary, and Lewis M. Wright, Springfield, treasurer.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL BE CALLED UPON

Every member of the First Presbyterian Church in Xenia will be visited Sunday afternoon by committees of men, between the hours of two and five o'clock, who are seeking to receive pledges for the current expenses of the church for the year 1923-24.

The committees expect to report before the evening closes, that the entire amount of the budget sought has been pledged.

According to the announcement of the Rev. W. H. Tilford, pastor, the committee members will also take pledges for the benevolent work of the denomination of which they are a part. The Deacons of the church have requested all the people to be at home between the hours named to greet the canvassers.

The action is an annual event of the Presbyterian Church, throughout the United States, on the Second Sunday in March. Some 300,000 canvassers will see the nearly two million members of the denomination in the attempt to raise $15,000,000 for benevolent and missionary enterprises with some $40,000,000 for church expenses.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. adv

general building bill, was the answer of Congressman S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs, in answer to the query of the Wilmington Democrat, as to why congress adjourned without passing legislation providing relief for cities badly in need of new postoffice buildings. The statement of Congressman Fess was given in a letter to the editor of the Wilmington paper, Thursday.

It was a case of passing a measure continuing a lot of pork, or no measure at all, and as the result many cities, as Akron, Wilmington, Urbana and Lima, are now in dire need of new federal structures, Fess' letter said.

The postoffice appropriations were let go to stave off a wholesale and unjustified raid on the treasury, according to Fess.

of the Misses Henrietta, Alicia and
Maud Winn Monroe, on East Market Street, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

SEVERELY BITTEN BY DOGS FRIDAY

Miss Margaret Coblenz, of Birch road, was attacked and severely bitten by two bull dogs, near her home, while on her way to school.
Friday morning. Dr. George Davis of this city, dressed the wounds. It is thought that nothing serious will result from the injuries.

The attack occurred when the young girl was walking along the road, the two dogs suddenly leaping upon her. Neither was fastened, at the time. Neither dog had any indication of rabies.

STRUCK BY SWITCH ENGINE.

Cleveland, March 9.—James Waters,
60, was instantly killed at a grade crossing here when he was struck by a switch engine.

GAMES CANCELLED

Because of the fact that workmen
are laying cement floors in the corridors of the new Central High School building, the proposed basketball
games scheduled to be played at the gym Friday night have been cancelled.

The cement is in such a condition that it will not permit use yet, and
it was necessary to call off all of the four games scheduled, which will be played at a later date. The date for the games has not been announced.

RELEASED FROM CUSTODY

John Stephens, 28, was arrested by Patrolman Harry Cramer Thursday evening on a warrant charging him with beating board bill. He was released from custody Friday morning.

TO TEAR DOWN STACK

The Parker Supply Company of this city has been given the contract for tearing down a 70-foot steel stack
at the plant of the American Tobacco Company on West Second street.
The stack will be replaced by a new steel stack of the same size by the local company.

"Will you talk briefly for me or shall I ask you questions?" said the interviewer.

"Well, I suppose you reporters have a canned set of questions to fire at me," said Mr. Ford, smiling.

"Well what do you think of—" the reporter began.

"Of Xenia?" said Mr. Ford, still smiling.

"I didn't intend to ask you that but since you have mentioned it what do you think of Xenia?" said the interviewer.

"Well, I can't say anything about Xenia. I haven't been here long enough and this is my first visit you know. I've only been here about ten minutes."

"Couldn't you get an impression in ten minutes," the reporter pressed.

"No," said Mr. Ford. And that was all.

Asked concerning politics and the possibility of his presidential candidacy, he was just as reticent or more so. "Reporters insist upon asking me something I don't know anything about," he said, "I don't pretend to know anything about politics."

Business, in the opinion of Mr. Ford, is good and going to be better. Conditions, as he has found them, he says, indicate that 1923 will not only be a good business year but a better business year. He asked the interviewer if this was not true. The interviewer thought he was being kidded but replied in the affirmative. What else could he do?

Mr. Ford's business trip by motor was partly in the interest of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad, which he owns. The road will be extended, he said, into the coal fields of Kentucky in order to provide a railway for coal shipments to Detroit and other points.

Mr. Ford was a little hazy on the subject of the "Grasshopper" division of his road, which passed through one corner of Greene County, until he was reminded that that was the short system included in his purchase of the D. T. and I interests.

He admitted that he was not given up the idea of extending that road to provide connections at Hamilton or possibly some place else, although he has no definite plans for such a move now. It was suggested some time that the road would be extended from Kingman, the southerly terminal, to Hamilton, where it would provide an outlet through farming country for the tractor product of the Ford Plant in Hamilton.

While this plan has evidently not been dropped, there is no move of this nature contemplated now, said Mr. Ford, although it might be carried out in the future for the present there will be nothing done with the so-called "Grasshopper" division.

Mr. Ford had luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant and left shortly afterward for his return trip by motor direct to Detroit. He said he expected to be home by seven o'clock Friday evening. Mrs. Ford was not with him and he was unaccompanied except for the chauffeur.

Cedarville College Notes

The junior class is removing all obstacles, which might prove a hindrance towards giving their class play on March 12, by having regular class meetings, in the regular place directly after chapel exercises each morning.

The College Rangers Club made its first appearance of the season, Friday afternoon at Jamestown. The program will also be given at Caesar Creek High School in the evening.

All the students of the College are looking forward to the interclass basketball tournament which will take place the first part of next week. Each class is determined to carry off the laurels.

Dr. Taylor, a returned missionary from India, addressed the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. in a joint meeting in chapel Wednesday morning. The students were especially interested in the Hindu ceremony and the costume of the Hindu fakir, which Dr. Taylor wore during his talk.

Many of the college students have been absent from classes because of sickness. Miss Clara Edler, who has recently had an attack of grip has returned to her studies this week. Miss Lois Ater has resumed her school work, after having been absent for three weeks on account of illness in the family.

The young men of the College, are practicing to present another one of their famous minstrel shows which is to be given March 28.

CLASSIFIES PEOPLE UNDER TWO GENERAL HEADS IN SERMON

All men and people were classified under two general heads, by the Rev. J. S. Flacks, Jewish Evangelist at the First Reformed Church, Thursday night, namely, Adam folks, who are after creation and lost spiritually, and Christ folks who are after the new creation in the Son of Man.

"There are two main classes," said the Rev. Mr. Flacks, "the Christians and the un-saved. Without Christ you are lost. With Christ you have eternal life."

The evangelist told of his experience in a town near Capernaum, where he preached a year ago. It was told about that he was there, and Greeks, Mohammedans, Catholics and all creeds came to hear him. "We have to tear up things and tear away things to get to Christ," he declared.

There is a deeper longing than hunger, as he saw it, in China, according to the Rev. Mr. Flacks. "The longing and hunger of the soul. This longing cannot be satisfied by a Christian, who is not clean."

A young Bohemian girl in his tailoring establishment was the first one to start the Rev. Mr. Flacks on his way to Christ, he told his audience. The subject of his address was "Cooperation of Christians for Sinners."

A large delegation from the Hooven and Allison Company attended the service. Friday evening, the Xenia Shoe factory employees will attend the service in a body. There will be no services held Saturday. The Rev. Mr. Flacks will go to Corvinton, Ohio, that day. Morning services will be held at the Three Churches, Sunday, as usual.

The Rev. Mr. Flacks will tell the first chapter of his conversion experience at the Sunday afternoon service at 3 o'clock. The Sunday evening service will be held at 7 o'clock. The Rev. R. E. Stewart will be in the city the remainder of next week, to assist in the services.

DIFFERENT WAYS OF SERVING

Tomorrow's Menu—BREAKFAST

Apple Sauce (Dried Apples) Cereal

Coffee Boiled Eggs

Tea Toast LUNCHEON

Baked Rice-Cheese Dish Bread and Butter

Tea Boiled White Potatoes

Coffee Orange Custard

A Reader Friend has written to ask how she can serve oranges in different ways. Try some of the following:

Orange Custard.—To make this dessert, simply make an ordinary boiled custard and pour it over diced oranges in a dessert dish (skin, seeds and the stringy white membranes removed). Let cool and serve.

Orange Compote.—Separate six oranges into sections without breaking the white membrane. Make a sirup of one-half cup of water, juice from one lemon, two cups of apricot juice (either from canned apricots, or drained from dried apricots which you have simmered for a while in hot water to cover) and two cups of granulated sugar. Boil this sirup five minutes, or until it "threads" then add the orange sections to it. Remove the saucepan from the fire, cover, and cool. Chill at least an hour before serving.

Orange Pudding.—Peel and slice four large oranges. Cover with one-half cup of sugar and let stand 30 minutes in a baking dish, in a cool place. Beat together the yolks of three eggs, one heaping tablespoon of cornstarch, one and one-half cups of sugar and one pint of sweet milk. Cook this mixture till thick like custard, then cool it. When cool, pour it over the sliced oranges. New beat the three egg-whites till stiff, sweetening them with one-half cup of confectioner's sugar, and turn this froth over the contents of the baking dish. Place the dish in a very low oven to brown the meringue. Serve cold.

Orange Cottage Pudding.—Make a plain white cake, using one egg. When baked in loaf form, slice it and place these slices on individual dessert plates. Just before serving, turn over each slice some of the following:

Hot Orange Sauce.—Sift together one cup of granulated sugar, one tablespoon of cornstarch and a pinch of salt; add this slowly to one cup of boiling water, then cook for five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from range and add two tablespoons of butter and the rind and juice of two large oranges. Strain and serve at once.

Orange Sponge Jelly.—Begin by making a simple orange gelatine (according to the directions which come with any box of granulated gelatine). Place the jelly in a cool place and watch it closely. In about 30 minutes (depending upon the atmosphere of the place) it will begin to congeal and cling to the side of the mold, when tipped a little; it is ready at this half-solid stage for the addition of one stiffly-whipped egg white and one cup of diced orange pulp. Stir in the egg white and the pulp, then leave the gelatine to complete its hardening.

ALASKA MISSIONARY.

The Rev. W. A. Thomas, of Point Hope, Alaska, former rector of Christ Episcopal Church, this city, will have charge of the Easter Service of the local church, it is announced. The Rev. Thomas is now on furlough from his work in Alaska, and will return to that country in May.

A social agency in Cincinnati communicated with Corzatt's son-in-law, Charles Stevenson, of Dayton, who drove to Cincinnati and brought him home.

John Corzatt, 64, of 715 Carlisle Avenue, Dayton, a retired Greene County farmer, returned from a trip to Cuba Thursday night minus a roll amounting to $1,500 and with many other strange experiences.

When Corzatt boarded the north-bound boat to leave Cuba after a winter spent in that tropical country, he found that someone had stolen his wallet containing $1,500. His ticket, however, was intact. A vivacious widow of 38 is said to have defrayed his expenses home, but on arriving in Cincinnati he found he was again broke.

A PURITAN WIFE

DICK BREAKS HIS LEG

CHAPTER 28.

As Ann kept no house-servant she was naturally more or less confined because of Little Jack. Grace frequently took advantage of this, and would walk over, then insist upon Dick taking her home in the flivver.

Ann hated these moonlight rides, taken while she sat at home with the sleeping baby, but made no demonstration.

It was only polite for Dick to take a guest home, and had that guest been anyone but Grace Edmunds, or had Grace been different, she would have thought it quite the proper thing to do.

She worried a little too for fear of an accident.

Grace often insisted upon driving and she was reckless, fast driver. She boasted she never had had an accident, although she laughingly told of being arrested in San Francisco, not once but several times.

To Ann it seemed a kind of disgrace, but Grace made a joke of it, describing her visits to court, her fines, and soon saying her father had no sense of humor because he found fault at having to pay her fines.

There was no speed laws in the open country where travel after dusk was almost nil, and she often spoke of how she made the old flivver go.

Ann had spoken of her fear of an accident to Dick, and he had laughed, telling her there was no danger.

Then one night they started off in a hilarious mood. It was a glorious white night and Ann said:

"You won't be gone long, Dick. I'll sit on the porch and wait for you." The two miles each way was quickly covered as a rule, as Grace remained so late Dick usually came directly back, not stopping to chat with Ned.

It was nearly time for his return, and Ann kept her eyes on the road the flivver had to travel on its return.

But the time dragged along and he did not come.

She walked to the edge of the road, just as it came into view, slowly not as Dick usually came.

As it drew near she saw Grace at the wheel.

A premonition made her call out:

"What is it, Grace? Anything the matter?"

"Matter enough," Grace answered as she turned into the driveway. "We had a spill!"

"Dick! Is Dick hurt?" Ann rushed to the car.

Dick was half lying, half sitting, his face white as death, although he tried to smile reassuringly at Ann as he said:

"Leg's broke I guess, Ann. Do you think you two girls can get me into the house?"

"We will!" Ann answered, and although he groaned with the pain, they finally succeeded in getting him on to the couch.

"Telephone the doctor!" Ann ordered Grace, asking no questions, but making Dick as comfortable as possible.

"The whiskey, Ann—" his white lips muttered, and she ran to the closet and poured him a drink, not even wondering if she were doing right, frightened by his paleness, his suffering.

The doctor was at home, would soon be there. He lived five miles away but told them what to do until he came.

Ann busied herself following his instructions while Grace looked on, saying how much worse it might have been and so on.

Finally impatiently told her to keep still, that it was bad enough as it was.

It was a simple fracture, but after he had set the leg the doctor told Dick he must keep off it for at least six weeks.

A groan was his only answer. Six weeks, and the orange crop almost ready to be gathered. It might as well be six months.

Ann reading his thoughts, frightened herself, tried to soothe him, telling him everything would be attended to, he mustn't worry.

Suddenly Grace spoke:

DEATH RATE HIGH.

Washington, Mar. 9.—Returns from 69 cities with a total population of 29,000,000 indicate the mortality rate for the week ending March 3, was 18.7 per thousand, the Department of Commerce announced today.

Deaths from pneumonia from Nov. 4, 1922, to March 3, 1923, totalled 22,774.

Kansas City had the highest death rate, with 29.7, and Houston, Tex., lowest, with 10.8.
